Welcome!

Issue 27 · 8 - 14 July 2017

When you think of Corrie, you think of strong women. Well, I know I do. From Elsie Tanner and Ena Sharples, the Street has produced a steady stream of feisty females over the years, and become famous for them in the process.

So when we were thinking about what to do with Coronation Street to celebrate our 25th birthday, we decided to line up a few of our favourites from the current cast. Some have been with us for the whole Inside Soap journey, while others are new Weatherfield legends in the making. I loved my day hanging out with this lot, and I hope you enjoy the pics and interviews in our special section.

"Corrie is famous for feisty females!"

Elsewhere this week, the ladies of all the soaps are bringing us the drama. Walford's Lauren has big plans for a future without Steven, Laurel has her suspicions about Emma in the Dales, while the cobbles' Erica has her sights set on Kev! Enjoy!

Who can save Bethany?

HER LOVED ONES
JOIN FORCES
AS EVIL NEIL MAKES HIS MOVE...

Craig is caught in a moral dilemma as he talks to his superiors

Craig is the one person whom Bethany feels she can confide in Bethany finally finds the courage to expose 'friendly' cop Neil's true colours this week, when she admits to Craig that the policeman raped her!

Although the vulnerable teenager is free of Nathan's clutches at last, sleazy Neil's part in the grooming ring still remains a closely guarded secret. And with her mum Sarah convinced that the copper is helping her daughter move on from her ordeal, poor Bethany is in hell...

"Not only did this man rape her, he made threats against Bethany's family if she spoke out," explains Lucy Fallon, who plays the fragile youngster. "So when Sarah invites him round again, Bethany doesn't know what to do. She's scared of him, but she has to try to hide her fear in front of her mum, because she doesn't know what Neil is capable of."

"Bethany is terrified, and disgusted by some of the things Neil says to her," adds the star. "He tries to shift the blame on to her, then he threatens her again. She's really shaken by the time he leaves."

THE TRUTH IS OUT!

While Neil has Bethany's family convinced that he's looking out for her best interests, one person who has noticed that she doesn't look comfortable around the cop is her best friend Craig.

Of course, he also works closely with Neil in his role as a trainee policeman, so that puts him in a better position to figure out what the shady officer is up to. And after Craig does some digging of his own, he realises that there's no official record of Neil's home visits to Bethany.

"Craig has been Bethany's rock throughout this ordeal," Lucy tells us. "He's been there to support her and he hasn't judged her. She feels safe around Craig – he's one of the only people she feels she can talk to. He can see how Bethany changes when Neil is around – he can sense her fear and discomfort, and he knows something isn't right. Craig won't let it drop, and Bethany is exhausted from keeping it to herself."

Craig is stunned as tearful Bethany breaks down and finally admits to him that she was forced to have sex with Neil against her will. This is the man Craig has looked up to throughout his police training, and he's adamant that the slimeball won't get away with it.

"Bethany is terrified, and says that Craig can't tell anyone," reveals Lucy. "She's convinced people won't believe her – but more than that, she's scared about what he could do to her and her family. Neil's threats are ringing in her ears, and she's desperate to stop Craig from saying anything."

SCARED WITNESS

Meanwhile, as the case against Nathan falls apart, Sarah is determined to find someone to back up Bethany's story. After trying to convince Mel to testify, Sarah and Gary then go to a drop-in centre where Rana is volunteering, hoping to locate more of Nathan's victims.

While there, the pair stumble across Shona, who's arguing with another girl. Sarah knows that Shona herself was a victim of Nathan's sick sexual exploitation – so can she persuade her to tell the police what she knows? Lucy certainly hopes so, as she would love Nathan to get his comeuppance.

"I'd like to see a positive ending to this story for girls out there who've been through the same thing, and may be scared to come forward," she shares. "Having spoken to one survivor through the NSPCC, I know that's what she wants – it's not the outcome she had, but it's important for girls to know these people can be brought to justice.

"Bethany's ordeal is far from over – the effects of what Nathan has done to her will be seen for a long time yet," continues Lucy. "She's struggling with guilt and blaming herself, so she's got a lot more to go through before she can see herself as a survivor..."

David sees red!

He's furious to find Shona back on the cobbles...

It's the anniversary of Kylie's death this week – so the last thing David wants is to come face to face with her killer's mother!

Having made it clear that he never wants to see Shona again, David now thinks that Clayton's mum is out of his life. So imagine his shock when he spots her moving back in across the road...

"The Platts organise a family picnic to remember Kylie," our Street insider tells us. "However, the afternoon turns to chaos after David the dog does a runner! As human David gives chase, he spots Billy helping Shona move into No 11 – and he's absolutely furious!"

After confronting Billy and insisting that he keep Shona well away from him, David returns home and announces that the party is over. But when he explains about Shona, Sarah is quick to point out that she may be one of the few people who could help with Bethany's case. Will her words have any effect on David?

"David feels for Bethany, but Shona betrayed him in the worst possible way," sighs our snoop. "However, it seems his niece's plight may prompt him to get over that. The Corrie team have been spotted filming scenes with David and Shona searching the streets together, so the pair do find a way to reunite. But could it also lead to something more between them?"

Shona does all she can to help Bethany and Sarah

EASTENDERS | BBC1 FRIDAY

Please don't leave me!

STEVEN FACES HIS WORST FEAR AS LAUREN TRIES TO BREAK FREE...

Desperate Steven tries to cling on to his relationship with Lauren this week – as she prepares to leave him.

The troubled Beale knows that it's only a matter of time before his long-term love ends things, and he's disgusted with himself for cheating on Lauren with her sister, Abi. Convinced that Lauren doesn't deserve a devoted partner like Steven, twisted Abi is determined to steal him from her. The problem is that it's Lauren, not Abi, whom Steven loves. But as he tries to extricate himself from Abi's clutches, Lauren confides in smitten boss Josh that she and Steven are over...

"Lauren has known the truth for a long time – she just didn't feel strong enough to act upon it," explains our EastEnders mole. "Josh has been making serious moves on her, and Lauren can't deny that she's attracted to him. With Steven, she feels like she lives a small, insignificant life, and she knows she wants more. Josh has shown her that's possible."

Following her conversation with Josh, Lauren realises she must make the break now, but it's difficult for her to pin Steven down. She has a heart-to-heart with her dad Max, and then Josh pays her a visit to offer his support. Willy Abi spots that something is happening and starts digging for information – which is when she discovers that Lauren is about to dump Steven.

Lauren opens up to Max about her issues with Steven

In Abi's mind, this is now a war that she'll do anything to win. She's obsessed with Steven, and in the same way she refused to give up on gay ex-boyfriend Ben, she'll go to great lengths to get her man! She goes to Lauren and sees the chance to manipulate the situation to her own ends – but what advice will Abi offer her oblivious sister?

"Lauren underestimates Abi at her peril," warns our insider. "She acts like she's the concerned sibling, but the seeds she plants in Lauren's mind are very deliberate. Abi wants Lauren as far away from Steven as possible – and if that means out of the Square, then so be it! Soon Lauren is telling her family that she's heading back to New Zealand without her boyfriend..."

As Lauren makes her escape plan, desperate Steven is on the edge of sanity as he tries to find her and discover some answers. He's sure that if he can just get a bit of time to talk to Lauren alone, they can mend their relationship and start afresh. All he wants is to have her and young Louie back, and he can't bear the thought of it being over. But the question is: how far will Steven go to make sure Lauren doesn't leave him?

“Lauren tells her family that she's heading back to New Zealand”

BRING PETER HOME TO WALFORD!

EastEnders has done a great job of cooking up a dark love square between Lauren, Steven, Josh and Abi – but we want more! We're genuinely worried for Lauren as both Steven and Abi plot against her, and it's clear that Josh has a ruthless side, too. However, there's one person missing in this picture – Lauren's first love and Steven's half-brother, Peter.

Peter is currently in New Zealand, where he remains estranged from dad Ian and in sporadic contact with Lauren. There's no doubt that bringing Peter home would mix things up and drive Steven to the brink – and how would Josh feel about Lauren's ex being back on the scene? Would Lauren stop Steven playing dad to Louie with Peter home? Would Abi hatch another dastardly plan? Make it happen, EastEnders!

Abi has decided that her sister's man will be hers!

Laurel in deadly danger!

AS SHE COMES
DANGEROUSLY CLOSE TO THE TRUTH ABOUT
EMMA, COULD SHE
BE THE KILLER'S
NEXT VICTIM?

Arthur was distressed as he watched Emma torment his dad

Time is running out for Emma this week, with suspicious Laurel determined to discover why Arthur is so terrified of the village nurse. But it also seems that Laurel will soon uncover the far darker truth that Emma is a murderer! How far will the killer go to cover her tracks?

"Laurel knows something isn't right with Arthur, and she's desperate to get to the bottom of what could be troubling her son," reveals our Dales insider. "She'll be devastated – and furious – if she learns that Emma was so cruel to Arthur and Ashley. But is Laurel prepared for what she might find out about Emma in the process? Not likely!"

Emma was horrified to learn that Arthur had watched dementia sufferer Ashley, who at that moment remembered having seen Emma lurking on a bridge during last year's huge car pile-up – just after she'd pushed fiancé James to his doom! Since then, barmy Ms Barton has been on a mission to destroy the footage and keep her secret safe. And when her efforts to retrieve the tape result in a scuffle with Arthur – and his last memories of Ashley are ruined – the lad is distraught.

His strange behaviour continues to worry Laurel, who resolves to uncover the truth this week. But as Emma panics under the pressure of Laurel's interrogation, will the Thomas family find themselves in deadly danger?

"Emma lies so well, she'd probably make a great spy for DEAD OR A-LIVE?

Emma's exit rumours revealed...

If Laurel discovers Emma's killer secret, it could be the beginning of the end for the nutty nurse. And as rumours persist that Emma will be bumped off later this year, a report claims that she will meet her maker in a live episode!

However, after reaching out to our friends in the Dales for clarification, Inside Soap can confirm that some of the gossip is untrue...

"There are no plans for a live episode," a spokesperson for the show tells us. "The cast and crew can rest easy that they won't have that extra pressure."

Still, the speculation on how Emma will depart is still very much rampant, and a dead exciting prospect!

EASTENDERS

ALL CHANGE IN WALFORD!

Boss Sean O'Connor steps down – and former chief John Yorke takes charge...

Everyone is talking about EastEnders following the news that executive producer Sean O'Connor has departed the show.

A tabloid newspaper has claimed that Sean (pictured right) was axed from the soap, after low ratings and mixed reviews to its recent approach to storytelling. But the BBC insists that Sean stepped down to concentrate on other projects, as former Square supremo John Yorke temporarily seizes the reins as creative director...

"I would like to thank Sean O'Connor for his excellent work on EastEnders," says Oliver Kent, Head of Continuing Drama Series at BBC Studios Scripted. "John Yorke is a Walford legend, and I'm thrilled that he is joining us for a short period to oversee the show, and to help us build on Sean's legacy while we recruit a long-term successor."

The rumour mill has gone into overdrive, with reports suggesting that interim chief John is planning a major cast cull and some sensational new storylines. Whispers include a shock death for a major character, a horrific shooting – and a hard-hitting family abuse plot. John is also rumoured to be offering new deals to major stars Danny Dyer (Mick) and Steve McFadden (Phil) to propel them back to the centre of the show.

However, our Square source has stressed to Inside Soap that it will be a while before we see any major changes on screen.

"Everything that you're reading in the papers about upcoming storylines and casting decisions is pure speculation at this point," insists our spy. "When a new producer takes charge, it can take months before their material appears in the show."

Inside Soap also understands that EastEnders has a very exciting few weeks ahead, with huge stories already in place for the autumn. So, whatever John is planning might not hit our screens until Christmas – and it will be drama all the way...

O'CONNOR'S GONERS!

The departing chief made some brave choices...

MITCHELL SISTERS AXED!

Ronnie and Roxy's drowning was Sean's most controversial decision, as he sought to put his stamp on the show. Many fans were devastated by the decision to kill off two of EastEnders' most popular characters in such a harrowing fashion.

MICHELLE'S MAKEOVER!

It takes balls to recast one of Walford's original characters, and it was a big risk hiring Jenna Russell to play Michelle Fowler – a role made famous by Susan Tully. Will Sharon's best mate survive the Square's big shake-up, we wonder?

BINGATE!

EastEnders was trashed by critics for endless dialogue between characters about the Square's rubbish problem. We'll hold our hands up and admit that we're not desperate to see this plot recycled.

DENISE'S BABY BLUES!

Denise and Phil raising their love child together had the potential to be soap gold, but instead we saw a heartbreaking adoption plot. Wah!

THE TAYLORS

Love them or loathe them, Karen and her brood have set our screens alight. We can't wait to see what they do – and who she thumps – next!

YORKE'S CORKERS!

John's history speaks for itself...

WHO SHOT PHIL?

It was Walford's answer to Dallas' big JR Ewing plot, as 22 million viewers tuned in to see who'd put a bullet in rotten Phil. It was Lisa Shaw who'd pulled the trigger!

RIP, ETHEL!

The nation collectively reached for their hankies when the Square's beloved Ethel passed away – helped to die by her dear old friend Dot. Sob!

LITTLE MO VS TREVOR

It made for uncomfortable viewing – and we'll never feel the same way about gravy on Christmas Day again – but Little Mo Morgan's domestic abuse at the hands of hubby Trevor was gripping stuff.

OWEN AND OUT!

While Spandau Ballet star Martin Kemp was brought in by a different producer, John steered his hugely successful plots to a blazing climax as Steve Owen's car exploded.

YOU AIN'T MY MUVVER!

The revelation that Kat Slater was in fact her 'sister' Zoe's mother is still regarded as one of the best soap plots of all time. Take a bow, John!

DANGER FOR ROBERT & MICHELLE!

Lives are on the line...

CORONATION STREET

Is good guy Robert set to turn killer in a desperate bid to protect his beloved girlfriend Michelle?

These pictures show the Bistro boss in a possible fight to the death with his former pal, Rich, who stabbed Chesney and threatened to reveal Robert's criminal past to Michelle.

The terrifying events will prompt Robert to come clean to his other half – but their nightmare is clearly far from over, as the chef goes to extreme lengths to get Rich out of their lives...

"Robert's not afraid to get his hands dirty to protect the people he loves," says our Corrie insider. "He and Rich will find themselves locked in a violent showdown, and it looks as if Robert will end up with blood on his hands."

Street bosses are keeping tight-lipped on whether the gossip is true, but star Kym Marsh – aka Michelle – has fuelled rumours that she's in for an action-packed few weeks on screen...

"There was a report about Michelle being kidnapped, gagged and put in a car boot," teases the star. "I can't talk about the storylines I'm currently filming, but I am sinking my teeth into some dramatic scenes. I have a busy summer ahead, so stay tuned!"

ERICA MAKES KEVIN AN INDECENT PROPOSAL...

CORONATION STREET | ITV MONDAY

Saucy Erica decides to escape her failing relationship with Dev this week – by booking a room in a swanky hotel and inviting Kevin to join her!

The flirty friends are each in the romantic doldrums, and they've already given in to the spark between them and shared a passionate kiss. Kevin can't deny that he's seriously tempted by Erica, but will he do the dirty on Anna?

"After the months of misery that he and Anna have been through, it's no surprise Kevin is questioning whether they have a future together," says our Street insider. "She's been to hell and back thanks to her fire injuries, and she keeps pushing Kevin away. He's tried talking to her, but Anna won't let him get close. In Erica, Kevin has found a kindred spirit – though it would clearly be a mistake to betray Anna and his mate Dev."

It's obvious that Erica and Dev are mismatched. As usual, he's been taking her for granted and acting thoughtlessly, and she's fed up. The problem is that leaving Dev would mean Erica loses her home and her job, so it's no wonder she's struggling to find the courage to call time on their relationship. But after a heart-to-heart with Liz, Erica decides to make a bold move. She wants to be with someone who excites her – and she thinks Kevin is that person.

"It'll get messy – Erica has already fallen out of love"

Meanwhile, Kevin is struggling with the mess his relationship is in, and confides in daughter Rosie about how he fears that he and Anna are destined to split. Of course, the right thing to do would be to make another attempt to clear the air with Anna, but Kevin takes the easier option and gets ready to meet Erica...

SALLY WEBSTER

There was a scandal when the spark between exes Kevin and Sally led them to a night of passion. Unfortunately for Sally's groom Danny Hargreaves, the betrayal took place the evening before they were due to wed! Kev revealed the truth during the ceremony, prompting Danny to jilt Sally.

MOLLY DOBBS

Tyrone's wife Molly and Kevin fell for each other after becoming running buddies, and planned to go public until Kevin discovered Sally had breast cancer. On her deathbed, Molly revealed to Sally that Kev was her son Jack's dad – destroying the Webster marriage and leaving Tyrone broken.

Anna and Dev find out what's going on, there will be fireworks! Dev is already terrified that Erica is going to leave him – and he's doing what he can to make things right. However, while she may live under his roof, Erica has fallen out of love with Dev. It's going to get messy."

Dev's last-ditch effort to make amends with Erica falls flat when she rejects his surprise offer of a luxury afternoon outing in order to go and meet Kevin at the hotel. But as she waits for him at the bar, will Kevin have a change of heart?

Who's the daddy, Bernadette?

KAREN DEMANDS ANSWERS FROM HER PREGNANT DAUGHTER...

Bernadette is keeping mum about becoming a mum

Worried Karen tries to get to the bottom of Bernadette's pregnancy secret this week – fearing that the dad's identity could rock their family.

Now she's worked out that her daughter's odd behaviour is because she's expecting a baby, Karen is determined to find out why Bernadette is so cagey about the father. She's worried that Bernadette kept the pregnancy under wraps to protect the lad in question, and now she's convinced that there's more to the story than her vulnerable teenager will admit...

"Karen doesn't give a stuff about what people think of her or her kids – she expects all of them to be the talk of the Square," says our Walford insider. "But behind her bluster and attitude, she's a mum who has a daughter in trouble, and it's breaking her heart. She's scared of what the future will look like for Bernadette and the baby, especially as they don't have much money. But she's most concerned about the toerag who got Bernadette pregnant, and why it's a big mystery."

It doesn't matter how Karen tries to get the truth out of her, Bernadette refuses to open up. She's glad to have her mum on her side, but she's just not ready to talk about things in detail. It's been tough on her to move house and try to find her feet in a Keegan's new rivals!

THE MITCHELLS STRIKE BACK...

The war between the Mitchell family and Keegan hots up again this week, as youngsters Dennis and Will plot revenge against him.

They've seen how Keegan terrorised Louise by making up lies about sleeping with her, and still not revealing the truth even after she reported him for rape. Dennis has developed a talent for getting into trouble, and he's the sort of boy who can lead an impressionable lad like Will astray. So when Dennis concocts a plan to get back at Keegan, Will is dragged into it.

The problem the boys have is that when they try to take action, the prank misfires – and instead of getting Keegan, Bernadette is the victim! Even gobby Dennis is scared as he realises that Keegan now has ammunition to come back at them – but when he turns up to speak to the boys, they're in for a shock. That's because Keegan isn't interested in scoring points, but simply jokes with the pair about their antics.

It's every mother's worst nightmare to have their kids get friendly with a lad as bad as Keegan, so if Honey and Sharon – not to mention Louise – discover what's going on, they'll be horrified. And given the strained relations between the Mitchells and the Taylors, it's a situation that's bound to get uglier.

Is Keegan playing things this way deliberately?

new area, as well as cope with being pregnant – and life is only going to get harder. The residents of Albert Square are already less than impressed with the Taylor family and their behaviour, so if she felt it was a struggle to fit in before, it's going to be 10 times worse now...

"It's fair to say the Taylors are loathed by most of Walford," sniffs our mole. "But there are some very kind people in the Square who'll realise how scary the world is for Bernadette right now. Nevertheless, she's going to encounter some hostility – and given that her brother Keegan has managed to make a stack of enemies, Bernadette could find herself paying for her brother's sins."

Robert & Aaron - falling apart!

AS HIS RELATIONSHIP WITH ROBERT TEETERS ON THE BRINK, IS AARON ABOUT TO SELF-DESTRUCT?

Driven to distraction by his partner Robert's betrayal, Aaron spirals into a pit of despair this week. And as the pressure on their fragile relationship builds, he falls back into dangerous habits...

"Aaron is struggling to move on," admits Danny Miller, who plays him. "He's trying to forgive Robert for cheating with Rebecca, but it's just not that easy. Aaron is loyal and honest, and wants the same from Robert. So when Robert produces cash that Aaron never knew he had, it proves he's still not being upfront."

Robert tries to convince Aaron that the money isn't a big issue – but Aaron can't come to terms with the ongoing secrecy.

"There's also the fact that Aaron risked going back to prison by running around with a load of cannabis because he thought Robert was skint – and Sarah needed money for her transplant, too," sighs Danny. "Yet all the while Robert's had this money sat around without mentioning it.

"Aaron gets flippant and tells Robert to chuck the cash on the fire. He's joking – but Robert sees an opportunity to prove his love for Aaron, and goes ahead and does it!"

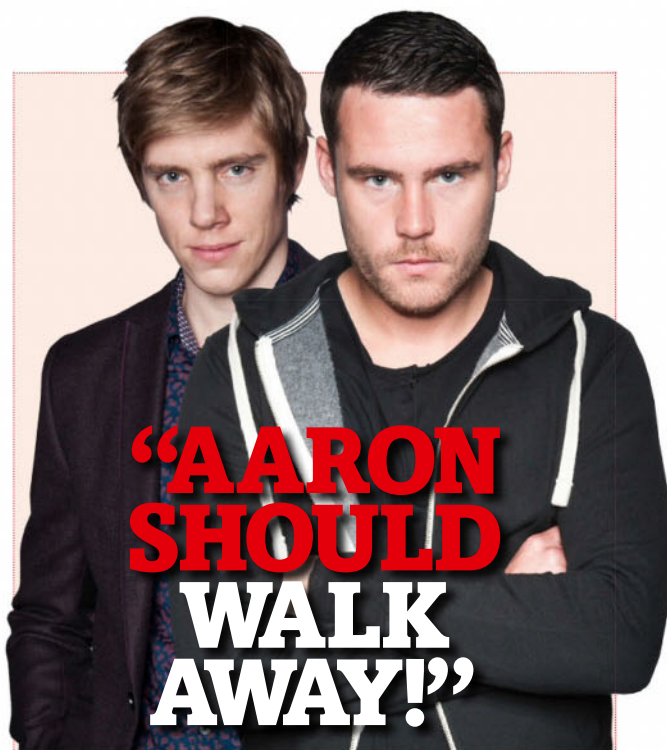

The pair salvage the money – and while they're heading into town to bank it, they come across Rebecca, who's broken down en route to a baby scan.

"Robert drives on past, trying to convince Aaron he's not bothered," explains Danny. "But Aaron – being the moral one, as well as a mechanic – insists they help. Rebecca's car is knackered, so Aaron tells Robert to drive her to hospital."

"Aaron walks back to the village, and by this point he's had enough. This is another way the baby is always going to disrupt his life with Robert. But Aaron wants to block out his problems – so he ends up calling Ethan, who he met in prison, to get spice..."

While the drug did nothing to resolve his troubles behind

"Aaron wants to block out his problems, so he calls Ethan for drugs"

Danny doesn't know if Robron can be salvaged...

“This is a difficult week for both Aaron and Robert,” admits the actor. “Will everything come out in the wash, or is it the end of Robron?”

“As much as Robert and Aaron are good for each other, they're also really bad. Rebecca having Robert's baby is a constant reminder of his cheating – and if I was giving Aaron advice, I'd probably say it's time to walk away. I'm sure the fans won't want to hear that, but as a viewer, that's what I'd say he needs to do!”

bars, Aaron is desperate. But when Ethan turns up with the spice, Aaron gets a horrible reminder of how bad jail was.

“Ethan brings Jason with him,” reveals Danny. “Jason is the one who punched Aaron in prison for weeks, and got him addicted to spice. Aaron wants to intimidate Aaron, and they end up fighting.”

By the time Robert returns home, Jason and Ethan have gone – and while Aaron has chosen not to take the drugs, the altercation prompts him to return to some very bad ways.

“Aaron doesn't want to be like Jason or Ethan, so he bins the spice,” shares Danny. “But there's another way he deals with stress – self-harming. That way he can hide his pain and loathing for himself.”

As Aaron once again takes a knife to his own skin, will Robert realise what his traumatised partner is going through before it's too late?

Watch your back, Cindy!

WHAT DOES STALKER ARMSTRONG HAVE IN STORE FOR HER?

Leela has got the measure of the creepy DS

Creepy copper Gavin Armstrong proves that he's willing to do anything in his power to get closer to Cindy this week – including framing Leela for robbery!

Since Leela found out that the policeman was the one terrorising her and told him to back off, he's turned his attention to Cindy instead. And now he has a new lady in his sights, Armstrong's not going to let Leela ruin things for him...

"Obviously Leela has rumbled him, and he knows that's a lost cause," chuckles Andrew Hayden-Smith, who plays the dodgy detective. "So now he's turning his attention to Cindy. He's got a thing for strong, blonde women and mothers in particular – which he's hinted has something to do with his relationship with his own mum. But nobody apart from Leela has seen his nasty side yet."

While Leela is clued up on the detective's true nature, Cindy remains unaware. She basks in the handsome fella's attention, much to her hubby Dirk's irritation. But Armstrong is not about to let a wedding ring get in the way!

"He's cunning and very dangerous," sighs Andrew. "We've already seen him push Zack down the stairs because he was getting in the way of things with Leela. I think he's capable of some nasty stuff, and Dirk should be worried."

With Armstrong having charmed his way into the Savage house as their new lodger, Dirk receives a call telling him that his daughter Liberty has been involved in a car accident, so he rushes off to LA to be with her. Could this be another one of Armstrong's plots? Meanwhile, Leela is horrified to see Cindy and the sinister sergeant together, and applies for a job as Cindy's cleaner. What's she planning?

"Armstrong is pretty annoyed when he sees Leela in the house, because obviously she knows his big secret," explains Andrew. "So he's freaked out and needs to get her out of the way! Leela wants to warn Cindy what he's up to, but she also knows that if she does that, Armstrong will tell everyone the truth about who Daniel's dad is."

“Dirk should be worried – Armstrong is capable of doing some nasty stuff”

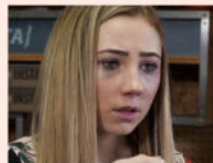

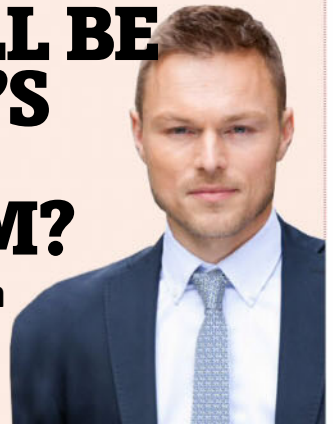

It's clear that the women of Hollyoaks village won't be safe with Armstrong lurking about the place – and Andrew has a few words of advice for his twisted alter ego.

"I keep getting tweets from the viewers asking why he can't just go about things in the normal way!" the actor tells us with a laugh. "Maybe he could have had a proper relationship with Leela if only he'd gone down the usual route of asking her out, instead of stalking her!"

Sarah Ellis

WHO'LL BE GAVIN'S NEXT VICTIM?

These mums with golden manes should watch their backs...

PERI

He's already stalked her mum Leela – so will the DS turn his attentions to the teen next? After all, she does have a daughter herself...

DIANE

She's blonde, bubbly and mother to little Ant and Dee Dee. Could Diane be in danger if she catches the crazy copper's eye?

GRACE

Ms Black fits the bill of being blonde and having a baby – but we're not sure even Armstrong would take on the village gangster!

DARCY

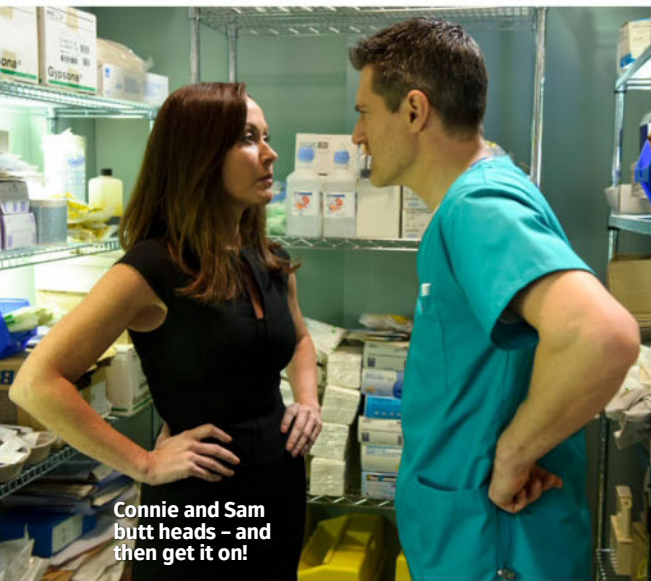

Darcy isn't averse to the odd bit of stalking herself! But could the manipulative mum end up a victim if she falls foul of the dodgy DS?

However, after the cop spots Leela rifling through his stuff via his spycam, he's forced to take drastic action – and plants Cindy's engagement ring on her! But will his plot to get her sacked work?

"Armstrong has a book filled with photos of all the women he's stalked, which is all very creepy," shudders Andrew. "It's silly of him to have left such a thing lying around, but Leela comes close to finding it. That's why he plants the ring – he thinks it's a good way to get Leela out of the picture."

Armstrong's hidden camera shows him something he doesn't want to see

Connie and Sam butt heads – and then get it on!

CASUALTY | BBC1 SATURDAY

This is the moment that ED boss Connie Beauchamp loses all sense of professionalism, and gets it on with her ex Sam at work!

The former flames have been at each other's throats ever since Sam returned to Holby last year. They've been bickering over their daughter Grace's welfare, as well as the running of the ED – so it was only a matter of time before their arguing boiled over into something more passionate...

"There's a lot of history between these two, as well as a lot of chemistry!" our Casualty insider reminds us. "Connie's a tough nut to crack, and there aren't many men who can get under her skin. But Sam gives her a run for her money – and although she hates to admit it, that's what she likes about him!"

Having quit his job as medical director of the hospital, Sam's now back in scrubs and working as a consultant in the ED – making Connie his boss. The big problem is that Sam doesn't like taking orders from anyone, let alone his ex-girlfriend!

Things become tense between the pair after Sam requests time off to take Grace to a physio appointment, but Connie pulls rank and denies him leave so that she can take the youngster instead. Grace is clearly unhappy to see her mum, and things are frosty between the two as they go to see the physiotherapist. So will Connie make any progress with her daughter before the day is out?

Meanwhile, back in the ED, Sam's treating a patient who's suffering from a rare infection caused by a parasite bite. He knows of an experimental new drug that could cure her – and he needs permission from Connie to get hold of it. But instead, he goes ahead and orders it behind her back! What will Connie say when she finds out what he's done?

"Connie is furious, as you would expect!" chuckles our mole. "She takes him to task over the matter, and makes it very clear who's in charge of the department! As their bickering continues, Sam drags her into a cupboard so he can let rip at her without the rest of the ED watching on – but soon they're ripping each other's clothes off!"

So, as things heat up for the medics, could this be the start of something more serious? And what will Grace say when she finds out that her parents have been behaving like naughty teenagers?

AS SHE CLASHES WITH HER EMPLOYER AT THE LOCAL SURGERY, CAN LIZ KEEP HER TEMPER?

Liz's medical emergency!

There's a poignant moment for Liz this week, as she signs over her share of the Rovers to new owners Peter and Toyah – before making a fresh start as receptionist at the local medical centre.

The pub sale is a milestone for Liz and her son Steve, as they brace themselves for the new challenges that lie ahead. But with Liz used to being her own boss behind the bar, it's not long before she's clashing with her sassy superior...

"Liz's new boss, Moira, is the bitch from hell!" chuckles

Beverley Callard, who plays the former pub landlady. "But at the same time it's very funny. Liz gets it so wrong on her first day – she turns up for work in the same kind of clothes she used to wear behind the bar at the Rovers, all sequins and big jackets. Moira tells her she's giving the patients migraines, and that she has to wear beige from now on. It's fantastic!"

Prior to starting her new job at the surgery, determined Liz seems to have come to terms with leaving the Rovers and all its memories behind.

Concerned about how she'll cope without the pub, Steve signs up his mum for a long list of courses at the community centre; meanwhile, faithful Rovers employee Sean hands Liz a good luck charm as she signs the pub away. But Liz assures both Steve and Sean that she's all fired up for trying something new – that is, until mean-spirited Moira puts a spanner in the works!

Flashily dressed Liz gets little respite from her malicious new manager as her first week continues – particularly after Moira disappears off to a meeting and leaves her new minion in charge. It's not long before the poor woman has a queue of patients lining up while the phone rings off the hook – and Liz struggles to keep her cool under very trying circumstances.

Liz's mean new boss tells her that her outfit is giving the patients migraines!"

Liz insists that she's fine with handing over the Rovers to Peter and Toyah

"At first she really hates this new job," admits Bev. "She's very sad at leaving the Rovers, so she has lots of emotions going on – but this is also going to be a really amusing storyline. Liz has a new relationship with Moira, and you can't tell whether this woman is out-and-out horrible, or if she doesn't know she's doing it. It's really good."

However, with Moira set to return from her meeting at any moment and discover her new employee up to her neck in chaos, will Liz manage to hang on to her stressful new role for much longer?

Life and death decision!

A REUNION WITH AN OLD FRIEND LEAVES GARY IN A QUANDARY...

Liz isn't the only one with a new career on the cards this week – after Gary's old Army mate Joe turns up in Weatherfield with an unexpected proposition.

Joe has been away in the Ukraine working for a private security firm since Gary last met up with him – and he's been raking in the cash in the process. Keen to share his good fortune, generous Joe reckons the lucrative role would also be just the job for his fellow ex-soldier Gary, and asks his mate to consider joining him out there.

Devoted Gary has been a pillar of strength for partner Sarah while her teenage daughter Bethany has been going through hell – but as a jobbing builder, he's not exactly rolling in money. That makes the kind of dosh Joe is talking about a huge temptation, though the work doesn't come without risk. Providing security in such a volatile country isn't for the faint-hearted, and while

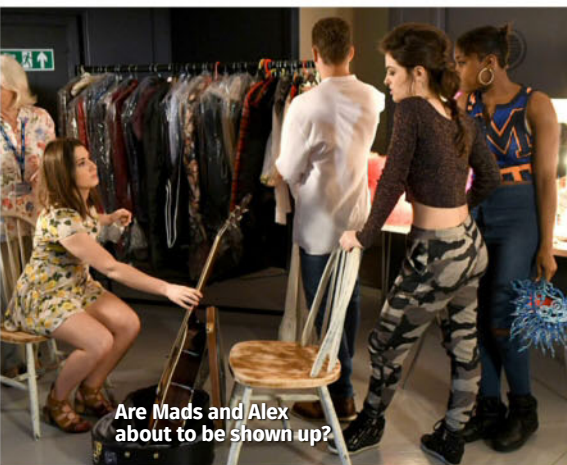

Gary has been there for Sarah through all her woes with Bethany

Gary is no stranger to danger, it's not only his own well-being he needs to think about nowadays. Sarah would be devastated to know he'd be putting his life on the line in order to pay his way – and there's also the fact that Gary will have to be away from all the people he loves, including his mum Anna and son Jake, plus Sarah and her brood.

However, as Gary mulls over his old mate's offer, will the temptation of earning a decent crust for his clan prove too hard to resist?

Are Mads and Alex about to be shown up?

The stage is set for the school showcase this week – but drama is about to break out in more ways than one!

With Madison and Alexandra hell-bent on making Bex and Louise's lives a misery, the chance to humiliate the girls in front of an audience proves too much of a temptation for the wicked team. But as Bex and Louise stand firm, will it be the bullies who end up getting booed off in disgrace?

"If the terrible twosome do get their comeuppance, it'll be about time!" snaps our Walford snoop. "They've been getting away with their vicious behaviour for too long, and it's got to stop. Fingers crossed, though – with brave Bex on their case, their nasty antics could finally backfire!"

Prior to the big night, Louise is still mourning the end of her romance with Travis, from whom she split following the embarrassment of the Keegan rumours spread by Alex and Madison. Bex and Shakil try to build bridges between the former couple – by persuading Travis that he owes Louise an apology for not giving her the benefit of the doubt. With that in mind, he eventually plucks up the courage to pay her a visit with his mates in tow.

As Bex and Shakil head off later, sneaky Alexandra overhears Bex talking about

Evil Pierce remains smug as Rhona tries to keep it together

EMMERDALE | ITV THURSDAY

Rhona's new nightmare!

Having finally named her brutal assailant to the police, Rhona braces herself for Pierce's rape trial this week.

When he enters a plea of 'not guilty' with just a fortnight to go until his court date, it's clear that Rhona's dreadful ex will be doing everything he can to escape a jail term. Pierce's ice-cold heart shows no signs of thawing as Rhona learns that he intends on using the sex tape he secretly made of the two of them as evidence. And when she and Paddy are snapped by a mysterious photographer, it's clear her trauma won't stop there...

"Rhona has a long and harrowing journey ahead of her," says our Dales insider. "She's done the right thing in reporting Pierce for his crimes, but his cruel nature means she'll need to fight tooth and nail to get the justice she deserves. Pierce is cunning and also a hard-nosed lawyer, so he'll be using every trick in the book to get out of this."

Desperate for something else to focus on while she awaits her day in court, Rhona sets about redecorating the home which, until recently, she and her little boy Leo shared with Pierce. Her concerned friends Vanessa, Marlon and Paddy remain close at hand – and Rhona needs their support more than ever once it transpires that Pierce will be offering the sex video as part of his defence.

"It's another awful blow for Rhona," shares our informant. "She was against making that tape in the first place – and for a while she was convinced Pierce had deleted it. It was bad enough discovering that he'd lied about that, but the idea of it being shown to strangers in evidence makes Rhona sick to her stomach."

Once again it's Paddy who steps in to provide comfort, as he pops round and offers to stay over to keep Rhona company. Grateful for all he's doing, Rhona leans in to give her good pal and ex a hug – but neither has any idea that the emotional moment is being secretly photographed.

LADIES' CHOICE

Ross [in Emmerdale] is at his finest when he's involved in a steamy love affair, but I'm not keen on him reuniting with Debbie. Nobody has come close since Donna, so perhaps we need a brand new woman to come in and keep him on his toes?

📍 | Kai, Swindon

SUPERMARKET SWEEP!

Although I see why Corrie's Erica is tiring of Dev, I'll never grow bored of him! Who else would think to save a day's takings by turning their house into a corner shop? He's a true cobbles legend and I'd love to see him pull out all the stops to whisk Erica off her feet!

📍 | Sian, Dorset

I wonder if Asha and Aadi have inherited his business acumen?

FAREWELL, PHOEBE

I was so sad to see Phoebe leave Home and Away – she's one of my favourite characters. Plus she and Justin are clearly meant to be together. I can't believe the writers

Dev could be shopping round for a new lady soon enough have split them up. Is there any chance she might come back?

📍 | Hattie

Well, actors Isabella Giovinazzo (Phoebe) and James Stewart (Justin) are a couple in real life too, so you never know!

Even though they were sisters, Jasmine and Jac never looked the same way

DR DEATH!

I want to applaud the cast and crew of Holby City for Fran's storyline and her part in Jasmine's demise. The acting was amazing, especially from Lucinda Dryzek and Rosie Marcel, who play sisters Jasmine and Jac.

📍 | Jackie, Belfast

I was so sad to see Jasmine go...

LUCKY STARS

Surely it's time for Cleo to have a change in fortunes in Hollyoaks? Not one good thing has happened to the poor girl since we first met her. Enough trauma, please – let's see her behave like an average 18-year-old for once!

📍 | Morgan, Edinburgh

Hopefully her best mate Holly can help turn things around.

FAMILY TIES

EastEnders' Lauren and Abi are beginning to remind me of Ronnie and Roxy with their constant feuding. If Abi turns out to be pregnant with Steven's baby, they really

Lauren and Abi were like two peas in a pod will have taken the place of the infamous Mitchell sisters!

👩 | Sharonjit, Birmingham

And we all know what happened to those two in the end...

WEDDING BELLS

I really enjoyed a recent episode of Doctors in which Dr Heston Carter married midwife Ruhma amid a scene of Bollywood dancing. It's very encouraging to see the show embracing multicultural ideas – well done!

👩 | Linda, Sheffield

I can't wait to see how married life pans out for them!

FAMILIAR FACE

It was hilarious seeing EastEnders' Robbie march into the café as the market enforcement officer. The old Robbie never had so much confidence, and Donna's face was a picture! I reckon they're bound to clash and we're in for some brilliant storylines.

👩 | Sylvia, Hampshire

Check out p32 for more on the friction between them...

MAN OVERBOARD

Emmerdale's Priya is no angel, but I was cheering her on when she confronted Pete in the café.

Any man would be lucky to have Leyla, and both she and Priya need to find fellas that give them the respect they deserve. I hope Pete loses both of them – it would serve him right for not knowing a good thing when he was on to it!

👩 | Veronica

And we all thought Pete was the nice Barton brother...

ILLUSTRATION: BOB DAVIS

EVA'S QUEST FOR VENGEANCE

Our hearts broke for Corrie's Eva as she finally discovered Aidan was cheating on her. But now she's cried her eyes out, we're buzzing to see the wronged woman have some fun at her fiancé's expense...

Poor Eva! Catherine Tyldesley did a great job in these episodes, and I could really feel the character's pain. Eva's got to be one of the most fun and gorgeous women on the Street. Why does she have such bad luck with men?

👩 | Nadia, Essex

As much as I felt for Eva, what a brilliant way for her to learn the truth. The texts on the TV reminded me of the fantastic Max and Stacey reveal in EastEnders, but the great thing about this is that Aidan still has no idea...

👩 | Callum, Kent

I can't believe Eva held it together in front of Aidan, especially after Brian handed over Aidan's secret phone. I think she'll find it hard to play it cool – but it'll be worth it when she gets even!

👩 | Taylor, Yeovil

We know that Eva plans to make Aidan suffer, but what will become of Maria?

There's no question that what Maria did was wrong, but as he did with Eva, Aidan has pulled the wool over her eyes too. In a perfect world I'd like to see the two of them team up to take Aidan down – but I can't see Eva forgiving Maria any time soon.

👩 | Lexi, Gillingham

I can't wait for Eva to have her revenge, and I hope she'll make Maria sorry as well. She shoved a cream horn in her face just for dissing Leanne – now I'd like to see Eva stick bubblegum in Maria's hair, or shave her eyebrows off!

👩 | Dylan, Salisbury

I'm sure Toyah would be happy to lend a hand!

YOUR TRICKIEST SOAP QUERIES ANSWERED...

Lisa's painful experience has at least allowed her to help Rhona

PHOTOS: REA/SUTTERSTOCK

LISA'S RAPE HORROR

In a recent Emmerdale episode, Lisa told Rhona about her own rape at the hands of one of her factory colleagues. Who was the perpetrator?

📧 | Niall, Bradford

It was delivery driver Derek Benrose, who raped her while they were working overtime. Lisa didn't tell anybody until she saw him become closer to Lizzie Lakely, but sadly there was not enough evidence to prosecute. He went to court after raping a second woman, and was found guilty in that case.

THE BIG interview

EMMERDALE | ITV WEDNESDAY

Back when Cain fell for Moira, Inside Soap pondered whether Emmerdale's wild stallion had finally been tamed. But little did we suspect the true journey that lay ahead for the bad boy. His relationship with Moira now seems like just one step on the road to his ultimate reinvention – as a vicar's husband!

It's fair to say that Cain and Harriet's romance has scandalised the Dales – and as we catch up with actor Jeff Hordley, aka Cain, at the Emmerdale studios, he tells us the viewers are getting right behind 'Charriet'...

The SINNER. and the saint

JEFF HORDLEY THINKS
THE VILLAGE VICAR
AND VILLAIN ARE THE PERFECT MATCH...

It's a Finch: Harriet has to endure the locals' indignation

"I prefer 'HarriCain' actually – it has a certain lilt to it!" chuckles the star, who joins us at lunchtime on the Woolpack set. "It's really interesting to see how fickle the viewers can be. There are people who maybe did like Cain and Moira as a couple who are now saying, 'Oh, Cain and Harriet are quite cute together'! It's funny how things can change so quickly."

But while Dales fans are loving this new romance, the couple's friends and family aren't exactly getting behind the pairing! And now that their relationship is common knowledge, Cain is dealing with the backlash from his stunned relatives.

"The Dingles don't approve – they don't feel Harriet is right for Cain, and that's largely due to her police background," reveals Jeff. "People have been shocked to find out they are an item, but Cain is riding the storm. Debbie isn't happy, Sam's making jokes and Charity is amused – it doesn't matter, though. When Harriet got stabbed, it was a turning point in their relationship. Cain has realised just how much he likes Harriet."

But the locals' disapproval isn't the only problem Cain and Harriet have to overcome if they're to make their romance work. Let's not forget that Cain has lied to Harriet about his decision to beat Ross silly in retaliation for the stabbing attack on her...

"Cain has been trying to keep Finn, Pete and Ross quiet because he doesn't want Harriet to know what he did," shares Jeff. "She's a former police officer, and Cain is worried she'll blow it all for him. Harriet doesn't advocate any type of violence, and he knows she'll be angry if she finds out he hurt Ross."

Harriet may have to rethink her moral code or learn to look the other way if she wants a future with Cain. He's a very different man from the violent thug we first met all those years ago, but Cain is still no angel.

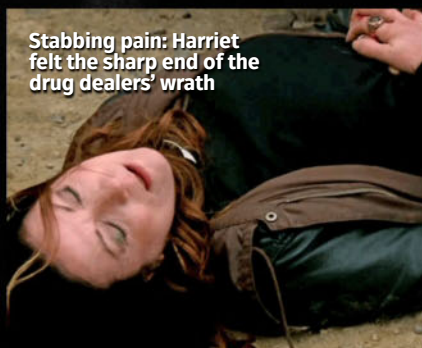

"I don't think Harriet is going to change him – he's not going to suddenly embrace religion!" admits Jeff, who is married to co-star Zoe Henry (Rhona) in real life. "Cain's DNA will always be the same, though he has mellowed over the years, especially when he was with Moira."

"You have to look beyond the fact that Harriet is a vicar and Cain operates a criminal sideline, and just see that these two people like each other. He needs a woman who is not afraid to give her opinion, and someone he can help, too. They are a good balance."

CONTINUED OVER

Harriet getting stabbed was a turning point for Cain!

Stabbing pain: Harriet felt the sharp end of the drug dealers' wrath

Viewers may be able to look past the pair's social standings, but the Church is less than impressed to hear that Harriet is dating a local crim. Bishop Barry arrives to have a word with his wayward vicar, only to interrupt her and Cain getting frisky in the vestry!

"Cain has to do some quick thinking," laughs Jeff. "He has to disguise himself so it doesn't look dodgy. I think that Cain likes Harriet being a rebellious vicar – it's part of the reason why he's so attracted to her. She's rock and roll!"

It sounds as if Jeff and his Dales co-star Katherine Dow Blyton are having fun filming their characters' offbeat romance. And for the Emmerdale stalwart, it's nice to have the chance to work closely with another of the show's strong female actors.

"Katherine is just fantastic," he enthuses. "She's a superb actress, and we have a real laugh. I've been so lucky to work with great actresses over the years on this show – like Natalie J Robb [Moir], Emma Atkins [Charity], Charley Webb [Debbie] and now Katherine. They are all such strong actors that they make me look a lot better!"

And Jeff hints that he could soon be working more closely with another of the Dales' strong-willed women.

"Something we haven't explored yet is the fact that Cain's mum Faith can turn him into a little boy," teases the actor. "We are all different with our parents – I think we all turn back into children regardless of how old we are. So that is an avenue I would like to explore. Sally Dexter [Faith] is great fun, and brilliant to work with."

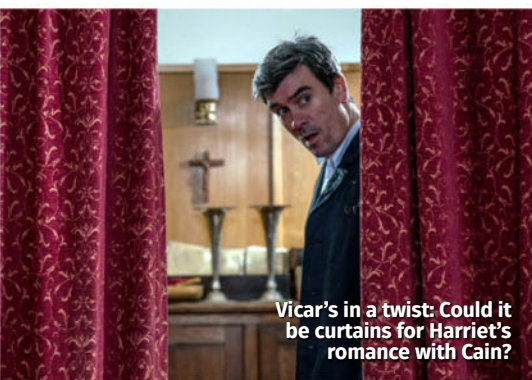

One Dales lady whom Jeff hasn't had the opportunity to work closely with is his wife, Zoe. But he's full of praise for the job she's done throughout Rhona's harrowing storyline with Pierce.

"It's just great that Zoe has been given something to really get her teeth into," he grins. "She's really enjoyed it, and she and Johnny [Wrather, aka Pierce] work so well together. They've both been amazing."

As far as the on-screen action goes, there's still a large contingent of fans who'd like to see a reunion between Cain and Moira. Does Jeff think there is any hope for the two of them?

"He would only go back to Moira if she gave him a definite flashing green light!" he reckons. "There are probably still some feelings there, underneath it all. But as far as Cain is concerned at the moment, it's over."

Kate White

Vicar's in a twist: Could it be curtains for Harriet's romance with Cain?

Cain's CONFESSIONS!

If Harriet and Cain want to go steady, perhaps the bad boy should ask for forgiveness. Is the vicar ready to hear the truth?

ANGIE & OLLIE REYNOLDS

"Forgive me Harriet, for I have sinned... I bedded a teenage girl to force her copper mother to reconsider dumping me – and then got the mum killed by crashing the car I'd forced her to steal."

SADIE KING

"Forgive me Harriet, for I have sinned... I slept with the woman who hired me to wreck the life of the mother of my child – and then when she ditched me, I killed her dog."

AMY WYATT

"Forgive me Harriet, for I have sinned... I had sex with a 15-year-old in the back of a car, got her pregnant, demanded she had a termination – and when I found out she'd had my baby in a phone box, I told her to get lost."

HOLLYOAKS | Channel 4 WEDNESDAY

“Alfie is going to be a teenager and have some fun at last!”

RICHARD LINNELL TELLS US
HE'S THRILLED TO BE A PART OF HOLLYOAKS' LATEST
COMEDY DUO...

“Ellis Hollins [aka Tom] is hilarious – he has one of the best senses of humour of anyone I’ve ever met!” actor Richard Linnell tells us, as we chat to him on his day off from Hollyoaks. “We’ve been filming a lot of high jinks between Tom and Alfie recently, which I’ve heard people say is reminiscent of the stuff that Max and OB used to do back in the day. It’s been a lot of fun, and I think there’s more on the horizon for the two of us.”

It’s lovely to hear that Alfie is finally getting to enjoy himself, as lads his age really should be. The past 12 months have been marred by tragedy for the teenager, who’s battled cancer, watched both his girlfriend and his brother die, and had to endure the constant backstabbing between his awful parents Mac and Marnie! So Richard’s delighted that his character is getting to smile at last.

“The past year has been incredible to do, but the emotional stuff can be quite draining – and it’s difficult not to take your work home with you,” he explains. “So it’s almost like a bit of a holiday now. Alfie gets to have fun as a teenager, and I get to be a part of that and enjoy myself as well.”

The hilarity on screen this week comes after Alfie and Tom accidentally stumble across Darren’s secret stash of weed – and decide to get rid of it before Nancy discovers it! But while it’s all fun and games for the two of them, sadly it’s a much more serious matter for troubled Darren, who has some very angry drug dealers to contend with...

“Alfie and Tom are up in the Osbornes’ attic when they knock over a box – and out pour all these bags of weed!” reveals Richard. “After they confront Darren, he talks them round and convinces them it belongs to Kyle, and he’ll get rid of it. But when they hear Nancy talking about going up there, the boys panic – and in their wisdom they decide to put it in a toolbox, weigh it down with some bricks, and throw it in the river!”

Of course, the viewers know that Darren has secretly been selling the stash in order to raise funds to help with Nancy’s MS treatment. So when the lads tell him what they’ve done, he’s forced to come clean and admit what he’s up to – and the youngsters have a genius idea of how to get Darren out of his pickle.

“The two of them decide to make some fake weed!” chuckles Richard.

“They throw together some oregano, some other herbs, and some essential oils in order to get the right scent. And it does actually work because the deal goes down and it’s all good, nobody’s any the wiser. Or so they think...”

We’re sure there will be big repercussions for Darren when his clients figure out that they’ve been ripped off. But for now, Alfie and Tom are in the clear – and Richard is just happy to be having a break from his screen family’s many dramas.

“The Nightingales have that Greek tragedy thing about them, everything is very high stakes,” shares the star, who has been playing Alfie since 2015. “I think that Mac and Marnie just need to get back together to save them both from managing to ruin anyone else’s lives – they deserve each other!”

“It’s great fun to work with David Easter and Lysette Anthony, though,” adds Richard. “They’re big characters, and you can see bits of Mac and Marnie in both of them. It’s like a real family in all honesty, so we have our ups and downs. It’s always interesting to walk on set and see what the day will be like!”

Sarah Ellis

Alfie and Tom decide to make some fake weed!

Richard's FAMOUS FIVE

The star dishes the dirt on his Chester cast mates...

“I really miss working with Jared Garfield [who played Nathan Nightingale].

I haven’t seen him since he left – it was weird as one day he was just gone! We’re overdue a catch-up.”

“I was star-struck by Lysette when she first arrived. I couldn’t figure out where

I knew her from – then I realised she’d been in Jonathan Creek! She looks different in real life.”

“David Kennedy

[Dirk] is really cool, because he doesn’t care what other people think of him. He’s just so comfortable in himself, and I think that’s an incredibly cool thing.”

“I’ve learnt a lot from Jess Fox, who plays Nancy. I didn’t realise that she had acted when she was a child before joining Hollyoaks, which I did too, so we have a lot in common.”

5

“Whenever James Bradshaw

[DS Thorpe] is in, he makes me cry with laughter.

He made up the thing about Thorpe’s wife Doreen himself. He was told to ad-lib, and it stuck!”

You ASK... They ANSWER!

“How...?”

“Where...?”

“Who...?”

“Why...?”

“When...?”

“What is...?”

ROXY SHAHIDI

Emmerdale's Leyla Harding

...faces your questions!

Leyla will be heartbroken if she ever finds out that Pete is doing the dirty on her with Priya – but star Roxy is all about positive thinking as she answers your questions...

“What’s the best party you’ve had?”

I’m not really a party person. I prefer dinner and drinks because I like talking. I think parties are overrated – there’s a lot of noise and mess! We have loads of really good dinner parties at work, and Charley Webb [aka Debbie] organises a lot of girlie nights out. They’re always great.

“Do you like Leyla’s wardrobe?”

It’s good fun. I enjoy wearing clothes in combinations that I wouldn’t go for in real life. But I like bright floral patterns, so I might steal the odd thing from Leyla’s wardrobe – and I’ve given her things occasionally, too. There’s been a bit of back and forth between us over the years!

“What is your favourite yoga pose?”

“As a yoga instructor, who would you most like to teach it to?”

Meryl Streep! That would be amazing. She’s just such a wonderful actress, and seems like a fantastic human being too. She’s one of my favourite actresses, so it’d be a good excuse to meet her.

“What is your favourite yoga pose?”

It depends on your specific needs on a particular day. If you’re feeling stressed,

Arsh’s words: Roxy speaks highly of her hubby the pike pose is nice as it releases the spine. To work your core, the boat pose is good. The child’s pose is always nice as it’s so relaxing, and shavasana is great because that’s when you can just lie there. This morning I did the plough pose, because I didn’t have the best night’s sleep and it made me feel better.

“Which former cast member do you miss the most?”

Probably Sammy Winward [who played Katie Sugden] and Sian Reese-Williams [aka Gennie Sharma]. We make the effort to see each other as often as we can, so that’s really nice. When we meet up, we’ll most often sit in one of our living rooms and drink champagne, and have plenty of chat.

“Have you missed your long hair since having it cut?”

No, not at all – I thought that I would. It’s so easy to wash and dry now, and

By no stretch of the imagination: Roxy is certainly a pro at yoga

For Pete's sake: How will Leyla react if she finds out that her other half is having an affair?

it's always in a style. My long hair was such an effort to wash, and so hard to style because it was just very long and heavy. I can always grow it out again if I want to!

"What's the very first and last thing that you do every day?"

The first thing I do is have a cup of coffee and do some yoga. And the last thing that I do is attempt a little bit of positive visualisation, to send myself to sleep feeling good. At the end of the day we can be quite stressed, and carry the weight of the day. We all have busy lives so it's important to take a bit of time to unwind, and focus on the things you're grateful for.

"If you could live anywhere in the world, where would you choose?"

I love England, but I'd definitely love somewhere abroad as a little retreat.

Maybe Greece, because there are so many pretty islands there that I've never been to. So I think for half the year I'd like to have a little house there.

"What's your pet hate?"

Laziness! I think it often gets in the way of achieving great experiences and feeling good about yourself.

If you can apply your energy and get up off the sofa to do something with your body or your mind that's constructive, then you feel better in all areas of your life.

Laziness can be quite destructive. Sometimes it takes effort to feel good.

"Where's your fave place to be on the Emmerdale set?"

"Which ex-Emmerdale cast member do you miss the most?"

At the moment I'd say it's Tug Ghyll, where Leyla lives with Vanessa and Pete.

I think it's really nice – so small and cute with a homely feel. So many of your most personal scenes happen where your character lives. You often do your most emotional work in your character's front room.

"What or who last made you laugh?"

My husband Arsher [Ali, who is also an actor and starred in the film Four Lions] makes me laugh all the time. I can be quite serious and organised, and he just tends to laugh at me, which then makes me laugh. We're a good balance, because he's very laid-back. And I really don't mind him chuckling at me!

"Would you rather cook dinner or go out to a restaurant to eat?"

I'd much rather have dinner cooked for me or go out to eat. I don't really enjoy cooking, but I enjoy eating. My perfect meal would definitely be a good vegan spaghetti Bolognese and a nice bottle of red, with maybe some chocolate cake for afters. I want that now!

"What was your last guilty purchase?"

...asks reader Terri Parker, via email

I don't know if I feel guilty about buying stuff, because I'm not really excessive. I recently spent £300 on juices, but I didn't feel guilty about it because I know they're going to be really good for me. I'm super-busy so it's hard to find the time to juice. They're like an investment in my future!

CELEBRATE 25 YEARS OF InsideSoap
AND CORONATION STREET...

PHOTOS DAN GOLDSMITH

“Can you believe that Inside Soap is 25 years old?!” exclaims star Beverley Callard, aka Corrie’s Liz McDonald, as she joins us for a brew. “I can remember when it first began. Everyone at Coronation Street was saying, ‘A magazine, just about soaps? Who’s going to buy that?’. Honestly, that’s what we said – and look at you now. I hope that you carry on for another 25!”

As much as the Inside Soap team would love to take all the credit for our success, we have been helped a bit by the stunning cover stars we’ve featured over the years – none more so than the strong and sassy women of Weatherfield. So, we’ve gathered five of our favourite Corrie ladies – from established actresses to some of the cobbles’ brightest young talent – to celebrate. And who better to kick off our exclusive interviews than the wonderful Bev?

The Street icon and her hubby Jon have recently launched a new business – a photography studio near the show’s set – and it’s here that the pair greet us like we’re old friends. Bev has always spoken very candidly about her life on screen and off, so we feel as though we’ve known her for years when we sit down for the mother of all chats...

“I think if I’d been through everything Liz has, I’d have gone into The Priory and never come out!” insists the 60-year-old, who has played Ms McDonald on and off for nearly 30 years. “The thing is, I love playing her. She’s never dull!”

The same can be said of some of the frocks in Liz’s wardrobe, and Bev admits they haven’t always been to her taste.

“I did go through a phase of thinking, ‘I wish Liz looked nice!’” she laughs. “But actually, I’m embracing it more now. Corrie is built on strong women like Elsie Tanner, Bet Lynch and Hilda Ogden. These women were amazing, and now Liz is part of the next wave. She wouldn’t be Liz if she didn’t look how she does.

“Jon will tell you that when I’m at home I don’t want to be dressed up,” continues Bev. “I love wearing baggy clothes, and I ditch the Wonderbras and the false eyelashes. He’ll say, ‘Shall we go out tonight?’, and I’ll say, ‘Oh, Jon! I don’t want to have to put any make-up on!’. I’m really boring!”

Bev won the role of Liz in 1989, cutting her teeth at Corrie as a Rovers barmaid.

"Julie Goodyear [aka Bet Lynch], Roy Barraclough [who played Alec Gilroy] and Bill Tarmey [Jack Duckworth] trained me in the Rovers," the actress tells us. "You might hear stories about Julie, but she was an amazing friend to me and helped me every single day. We had one scene where Liz went, 'Bet, do you think my skirts are too short?'. And Bet replied, 'Liz, some days we can't see your knickers at all'. I'll never forget that."

"Barbara Knox [aka Rita] is also incredible, as was Annie Kirkbride [who played Deirdre Barlow]," adds Bev. "Annie was my best mate, and I think about her all the time. I still find it hard visiting the Barlow set."

Meanwhile, the Rovers is under new management as Liz and Steve sign away the pub this week. But the change of scenery hasn't dampened Bev's enthusiasm for her job.

"Instead of turning left in the studio, now I just turn right," she says. "It's great for me as an actress, as Steve and Liz end up living together in the flat above Streetcars. We're getting some proper McDonald scenes, and they're so funny!

"I can't tell you much, apart from Steve is with a woman and Liz doesn't see any chemistry," continues Bev. "She tells him, 'Steve, she's a nice girl, but if she doesn't put a snap in your celery, she isn't worth having'. And then Liz goes, 'I've seen more romantic kisses at Liza Minnelli's last wedding!'. They do write some classics for Liz!"

While her alter ego's time on the show has included Liz losing a baby and a volatile marriage to ex Jim, Bev's life off screen has seen her battle depression and file for bankruptcy.

"When I had depression, people were great," she shares. "I talked about it because if I didn't, the tabloids would've made it up. That's why I went on Piers Morgan's Life Stories, so I could tell it like it is, and people – your readers, the viewers, everybody – were brilliant."

Bev goes on to inform us that life couldn't be better now, as she balances Corrie with the photography studio and plenty of regular exercise.

"Playing Liz gives me contentment, but another one of my ambitions – because Jon is my best friend and he's helped me through so much – is for us to spend more time with each other and our kids," she grins. "I still teach my fitness classes – which I've been doing for 36 years – and we live a bit out of town now. I can't believe it's all so good."

"Liz might be about to find love again..."

It's easy to forget Amy Barlow is just 13 years old, but when Elle joins Bev on our shoot wearing her real-life school uniform, we're reminded that both the character and actress have had to grow up fast! And like Amy, 14-year-old Elle has a wise head on young shoulders...

Amy is definitely Tracy's daughter, isn't she?

Oh yeah, I think people can see how Amy has grown up to be like her mum. She can be quite nasty when she wants to be, but I love that she has a bit of spice to her.

Do you watch Kate Ford, aka Tracy, and take tips from her?

I think I've just picked it up as I've gone along. And it's easy to play because Tracy and Amy are written for so well.

Are you anything like Amy in real life?

[laughs] She's headstrong, and so am I. I know what I want, so I'm a bit like her in that way.

At any point did you think Amy was the one who pushed Ken?

There was a moment when I considered it, but deep down I knew she hadn't. Amy wouldn't do that to her grandad – she loves him!

What do you remember from being seven and getting the job?

You never expect to go to an audition and end up in one of the biggest shows on TV – and being part of two of the most popular families. I remember doing the audition and worrying that the other person was going to get the part. My cardigan was buttoned up wrong, and I had beans down my top. I also said my line wrong!

Amy has some great one-liners. Can you pick a favourite?

I had a scene with Georgia May Foote [who played Katy Armstrong], and Amy said to her character, "Your skirts are way too short and you wear too much make-up". That was funny!

What's the best thing about having Bev as your on-screen grandmother?

We laugh all the time, and we used to swap shoes in scenes constantly. At one point it was even written into the script. I was in a scene where Amy was lying on the couch wearing Liz's heels, and Liz comes in asking where her shoes are. But now my feet are actually bigger than Bev's.

What is coming up for Amy?

Let's just say that she's given a run for her money soon. Amy is used to bossing everyone around, but someone will put her in her place!

It scares me to say that, but it's an amazing feeling."

Having spent the day with Jon, we can see how happy he makes Bev. But what about Liz? Will she find love again?

"Oh, I hope so!" trills Bev. "I think she may be about to, but how long it will last I don't know. Our boss Kate Oates told me she'd cast someone hot, and I said, 'You better!'"

As Bev leaves us to strike a pose for the camera, we're reminded that she has been in this game a long time.

"Did I tell you about when I had to pose on a live alligator?" she mentions, casually. "You should have seen it!"

Before we go, the star makes us a promise we will be holding her to...

"I tell you what," she chuckles. "When Inside Soap is 50, I'll come down with my Zimmer frame or motorised wheelchair, and do another shoot for you!"

Jennie
McAlpine

Jennie is pushed for time when she arrives at our shoot – she has to head back to set as soon as possible to film a scene with Rita! But as a working mum, who also helps run her and her husband's restaurant business, Jennie is a dab hand at whizzing about. Within the hour, she's posed for the Inside Soap cameras, had a natter with us, and is grabbing her stuff, giving our team a goodbye hug before heading off. What a girl!

Jennie, we can hardly believe that we've been writing about you in Inside Soap for 16 years – does it feel that long to you?

Oh, my time on Corrie has gone so fast. I was 17 when I joined, and since then I've met my husband, we opened our restaurant together and I became a mum. So I've had such a lovely life while I've been on the show.

Fiz was a naughty girl when she first came to the Street. What was her wildest moment?

Apart from marrying John Stape the murderer, you mean? Well I suppose the one thing everyone talks about is when she climbed on to the factory roof to protest against Mike Baldwin, and took her top off! And I actually did that. All my modesty was covered, but it was in the middle of blimming winter!

So being on the telly isn't as glamorous as it looks, then?

Not always! The most outrageous thing I did was when Fiz and Kirk were living together at his mum and dad's kennels. I had a fear of dogs, but for one scene I had to put two puppies down my bra! They were King Charles spaniels that were orphans, and the line from Kirk was that it would remind them of their mum's breasts! Then I had to get in bed with an Irish wolfhound, all in the name of comedy. Fiz wasn't supposed to be good with the animals, but I wasn't either!

Do you think that you could be friends with Fiz in real life?

I'd rather be friends with her than a lot of people on that street! Some of them are pretty awful. I wouldn't want to be friends with Tracy or Phelan, so there are worse people, that's for sure!

Are the factory scenes as much fun to film as they are to watch?

Oh yes, I must say that we are all quite naughty. We're known as the factory girls off screen, too – and that includes Antony Cotton, who plays Sean. The blokes in the factory office seem to think that they're in charge, but really us girls have the run of things, even when the cameras stop rolling!

How is Fiz going to cope in the aftermath of her brother Chesney's stabbing?

There are quite a lot of characters who are going to have to answer for that, and Fiz is angry with all of them. Her maternal instincts kick in.

Was it an easy decision to return to Corrie after having your little boy Albert back in 2014?

Yes and no. Once you become a mum, you feel bad every time you leave them. Having said that, Corrie is a brilliant job to have when you have a family. The bosses have been great with letting me have time off whenever I have needed it, and I don't feel as though I've missed out on being a mum. I think that Albert would be bored to death of me if we were together all the time!

You plumped for a gorgeous orange dress today, which shows off your colouring. Growing up, did you ever consider changing your trademark red hair?

When I first joined Coronation Street it was really red, but I must say that the colour has dulled a bit now. But no, I've always embraced it. We've seen quite a few famous redheads in Corrie, so I'm part of a good team!

Now, rumour has it that you were a big soap fan even before you joined Coronation Street?

I was in the Home and Away fan club! And I honestly bought the very first edition of Inside Soap. I'm 33 now, so it made me feel very old when I found out that you were 25. I was eight when it first began, and I used to save up my pocket money so that I could buy it. I wasn't able to afford it all the time, though, as I still had to pay for my Home and Away subscription as well!

In your expert opinion, then, who is the greatest Coronation Street lady of all time?

Oh gosh, it's dead hard to pick! I'm going to have to say Vera Duckworth, played by Liz Dawn. Fiz and Tyrone may be living in her house, but it will always belong to Jack and Vera. It's a dream to be playing out my stories on that set.

"I bought the very first edition of Inside Soap!"

Sally Dynevor & Helen Flanagan

Sally and Rosie don't always see eye to eye on screen, but stars Sally and Helen get on like a house on fire away from the cameras. After all, they've been playing mother and daughter for the best part of 17 years...

Can you remember the first time that you met each other?

Helen I was only nine years old and wearing a top from Tammy Girl, and Sally gave me the biggest hug ever!

Sally I remember you as this smiley girl who came on set, and you were just the sweetest little thing.

What are your earliest memories of being on the Street, Helen?

Helen The likes of myself, Brooke Vincent [aka Rosie's sister, Sophie] and Jack P Shepherd [who plays David] were all tutored together. I used to take my schoolwork really seriously, and Jack gave me lots of banter once for a piece of creative writing I did. It was so cringey!

Sally, do you feel like a second mum to both Helen and Brooke?

Sally I do actually. We've always talked a lot – especially a few years ago when both girls were in their teens. We would chat about things that they were going through, boyfriends and so on – and I'd maybe offer the odd bit of advice. They're both just really lovely girls.

Helen I feel very lucky to have Sally as my screen mum. We kept in contact even after I had left the show [Helen played Rosie from 2000 to 2012, before rejoining the show earlier this year]. If ever I really needed someone to talk to, I could always ring Sally.

What do you love most about your relationship now?

Sally Sometimes Helen will come on set in a Rosie outfit, and I'll just go, "Oh my God, be careful you don't fall out of that, babes!". But as the years have gone by, Helen has come to know Rosie very well. She's in tune with what her character ought to be wearing.

Helen I'm really good friends with the costume department. Originally, Rosie was meant to be wearing red overalls for her window-cleaning round, but I said that I thought she would prefer a pink jumpsuit instead.

I actually spotted her unicorn onesie, too, and messaged the wardrobe girls straight away!

Do you feel as though you've changed as a person since you were first in Corrie?

Helen Definitely. I think it was important for me to go away for a bit, have some freedom and just be myself for a while. It's not that I didn't appreciate Corrie before, but now that I'm a mum I look at things a lot differently.

In her 31 years on the cobbles, actress Sally has seen her character go through numerous affairs, suffer domestic abuse, be injured in a tram crash – and, of course, suffer breast cancer in 2009. That was a particularly poignant story for the star, who portrayed the plot at the same time as being diagnosed with the illness in real life.

Sally has been through so much. What storyline stands out for you?

Sally I'd been on the Street for about 10 years, and Sally and Kevin were really happy until

"Sally has an exciting year ahead..." SALLY

Natalie Horrocks came along. That's when it all changed for the Websters.

We'll never forget that classic cobbles catfight they had!

Sally Neither will Denise [Welch, who played Natalie] and !! We were – and still are – very good friends, so when Sally slapped Natalie, Denise told me to go for it. We still talk about it.

What's the toughest story you've filmed on the show?

“Rosie’s goth stage will haunt me forever!” HELEN

Sally Well, of course there was Sally's breast cancer – and the abuse plot with Greg Kelly was hard, too. Also, the live episode for Corrie's 50th anniversary was one of the most challenging things I've ever done.

I initially told our boss at the time I didn't want to be in it, but it was one of the best experiences I've had on Corrie.

What about you, Helen? Rosie has had some wild times, hasn't she?

Helen Oh yeah, loads! The horrendous wig she wore through her goth stage will haunt me forever. And the stuff with John Stape where Rosie was locked in the attic was good fun as well. My sister sent a video of it to me – I looked so crazy in those scenes!

Inside Soap has been with your characters every step of the way. How did you feel the first time that each of you appeared in the mag?

Helen Even before then, I remember really nagging the press office to let me do photo shoots, as I always used to enjoy doing them so much.

Sally It's great when you're younger, but I remember being 33 and in Sainsbury's with my children, and them saying, “Why are you kissing that man on the cover of that magazine, Mummy?”. That's when it can be embarrassing!

Have any of your children taken an interest in Coronation Street as they've grown older?

Sally My youngest daughter loves Corrie, and she also loves Helen and Brooke. We went to Brooke's birthday party a few weeks ago, and Hattie was thrilled that she was invited.

Helen Matilda [Helen's daughter with footballer Scott Sinclair] recently turned two. The time has flown by!

Can you tell us what is coming up for your characters?

Helen Adam and Todd are still trying to get their own law firm off the ground. Obviously Rosie has much grander ambitions in life than wanting to be a window cleaner, so she is really keen on becoming their PA. It's quite funny how she goes about it all...

Sally I think that it's going to be a rather exciting year for Sally. The world feels as though it's in a bit of a mess at the moment, and – this sounds like a silly thing to say, but – I really hope that Sally's next story manages to encourage people to do good things within their own communities.

Maybe we ought to send Sally to Westminster?

Sally Oh, she'd love that!

Thanks for the MEMORIES!

Bill Tarmey, Liz
Dawn & Denise
Welch

*Jack & Vera
Duckworth, Natalie
Barnes 1998*

Natalie's wedding to Des Barnes was a cause for celebration – and a chance for Jack to steal a cheeky kiss! Sadly, we lost Bill back in 2012, but Liz made a guest appearance in Emmerdale in 2015, and Denise has hardly been off of our screens since leaving the Street in 2000. As well as featuring in many television dramas, the star has also appeared in reality shows and worked as a presenter.

WE OPEN THE InsideSoap
ARCHIVES AND REMEMBER
SOME OF OUR FAVOURITE
PHOTO SHOTS..

Jane Danson
Leanne Battersby
 2000

We thought we were giving Jane a treat when we asked her if she fancied taking part in this choc-tastic Easter shoot – but we got rather a surprise when we turned up on the day and found out she'd given up the sweet stuff for Lent! She kept her vow, and resisted the choccy delights for the three hours it took to complete the shoot.

Samia Ghadie
Maria Sutherland
 2000

After we asked Samia to be our Wonder Woman for a stars dress-up feature, she'd never heard of the superhero, stating her favourite female hero was She-Ra from Masters Of The Universe! These days Wonder Woman is big news, thanks to the blockbuster movie starring Gal Gadot. Maybe we should ask Samia to bring Inside Soap up to date, and pose for us in the modern-day outfit!

Jack P Shepherd

David Platt 2001

When 13-year-old Jack won Best Young Actor at the Inside Soap Awards, little did we know how central he would go on to be in the Street over the coming years. 'Cheeky scamp' David soon made way for 'teenage angst' David, followed by 'psycho' David, then 'family man' David. These days, Jack gets to play all of them at once as one of Corrie's most complex characters.

25

Party on! 2010

To celebrate the 50th anniversary of Corrie, we arranged a Street party to end all Street parties. Some 21 cast members joined us for our fantastic pull-out feature, which to this day is still our biggest ever photo shoot – and has been on display in the Inside Soap office ever since!

Jack P Shepherd & Michelle Keegan

*David Platt & Tina
McIntyre 2008*

Michelle had only been on the Street a month when we commissioned a shoot with her and Jack for our Valentine's issue – and when we saw this pic, we knew Michelle was heading for big things. Sadly, Tina and David's love story came to an end – as did Tina's time in Weatherfield when she was murdered in 2014.

Inside Soap STREET PARTY!

Nicholas Cochrane & Simon Gregson

Andy & Steve McDonald 1992

Look at those mischievous little faces! Inside Soap caught up with the McDonald twins in their early years on the show, when they were up to all sorts of teen high jinks. We don't see much of Andy in Weatherfield these days – he's living life in the sun – but Steve is still up to no good, as many currently on the Street can vouch for!

Platt's life!

2003

Drama is rarely far away for the Platt clan, and never more so than when they were stalked by serial killer Richard Hillman. His dirty deeds may have been exposed, but the family still lived in fear – and with good reason, as the next stop for them was at the bottom of the canal!

Jane Danson & Rob James-Collier

Leanne Battersby & Liam Connor 2007

Leanne has certainly had her fair share of men over the years – we could fill an entire supplement with photos from the Inside Soap archives of Jane cosied up with various cast mates! But we chose to feature this sweet pic, which we shot for a Valentine's special, as our overall favourite.

Sam Aston

Chesney Brown 2004

Ches was the cutest thing we'd ever seen when he arrived on the cobbles, and Sam was never cuter than when he was plonked on a beanbag for our photo shoot. It's no surprise that he scooped two gongs – Best Young Actor and Best Newcomer – at the Inside Soap Awards for his first year on Corrie.

25

Anne Kirkbride

Deirdre Barlow 2012

When Inside Soap celebrated its 20th birthday, we wanted to see some of your favourite stars enjoying their favourite magazine. We took the much-missed Anne to Freshco's car park in a pic that saw Deirdre glued to her own dramas unfolding in the mag. Sadly, Anne died three years later aged only 60.

Simon Gregson & Katherine Kelly

Steve McDonald & Becky Granger 2009

More than one lady over the years has told Steve McDonald to get on his bike – but when this pic was taken, Steve and Becky were at the height of their love affair. Just a shame about the rocky road ahead...

Ben Price & Catherine Tyldesley

Nick Tilsley & Eva Price 2011

Long before she was romancing Underworld boss Aidan, Eva was having a dalliance with another big hitter on the Weatherfield business scene – Nick of Nick's Bistro fame.

To celebrate, we decided to give the pair a Gone With The Wind makeover, as the fiery couple paid tribute to the classic movie.

Alex Bain Simon Barlow 2012

When we decided to spoof some famous festive films for our Christmas issues, the first thing we thought of was little Alex performing Macaulay Culkin's famous scream from Home Alone. And with Corrie bad guys Tony Gordon and Richard Hillman peering in on him, it's no wonder he looks so scared!

Sally Dynevor & Joe Duttine

*Sally & Tim
Metcalfe 2015*

As our favourite pairing of the year, we got Sally and Joe into the Christmas spirit for our stylish festive shoot – their first one as a married couple. They may have seemed an odd pairing when they got together, but their union is still going strong while countless other Corrie couplings have fallen by the wayside!

We ♥ Corrie!

THE INSIDE SOAP TEAM SHARE SOME OF THEIR FAVOURITE MEMORIES OF WORKING WITH THE STARS OF THE STREET...

SCHMEICHEL

By Laura-Jayne Tyler, News Editor

I've interviewed some big stars while at Inside Soap, but none as huge as the Great Dane who played Chesney's pet pooch, Schmeichel. Off I went to his real-life doggy digs in Cheshire, and spent a lovely day with him and his owners. Sadly, though, Schmeichel – real name Spike – was feeling a little under the weather. "He's seven in Corrie now, and that is a critical age for Great Danes," his owner told me. Two days later, Spike passed away – and while Corrie replaced him with another dog on screen, I'll always be haunted by the idea that I may have killed Schmeichel with the stress of that final photo shoot! I can only take comfort in the saying 'All good dogs go to Heaven'...

LIZ DAWN & BILL TARMY

By Allison Jones, Features Editor

In 2002, the fabulous Bill and Liz (Jack and Vera Duckworth) were due to be presented with Inside Soap's Outstanding Achievement Award, and I was tasked with the enviable job of accompanying them from their hotel to the party venue. They were everything you'd expect of such a legendary pair, and it was a pleasure to be around them. But while I was supposed to be looking after the two of them, so modest were they about being our special guests that they actually made more of a fuss of me. By the time we arrived at the party to be greeted by our editor Steven, lovely Liz took him aside to tell him how well I'd been taking care of them – before coming back whispering into my ear, "Think I've sorted you a pay rise, love".

CONNOR McINTYRE

By Laura Heffernan, Junior Writer

I love watching Phelan cause trouble on the cobbles, so imagine my delight when Connor McIntyre agreed to take part in a Corrie photo shoot last year. He was in great spirits, but disaster struck when the jacket we'd chosen for the shoot was too small! Luckily, Connor saved the day, and kindly suggested we pop back to his flat to pick out one of his own. I'd usually think twice about sharing a cab with Phelan, but Connor couldn't be more lovely!

CORRIE'S 50th BIRTHDAY

By Sarah Ellis, Deputy Features Editor

My most exciting Corrie moment was when I was invited up to the set to celebrate the show's 50th anniversary in 2010. The Corrie bosses threw a massive street party on the cobbles, and so many of the cast were there – including the golden oldies such as Betty, Rita and Ken. It was an absolute pleasure to be able to meet all the legends of Weatherfield, and celebrate such an amazing milestone with them. And to top it all off, there was loads of free food and drink as well. It was one of the best parties I've ever been to!

JULIE HESMONDHALGH

By Steven Murphy, Editor

We don't often get trips abroad at Inside Soap – the 6.50am train to Manchester is as glamorous as it gets, usually – but I was fortunate enough to travel to Amsterdam to watch scenes being filmed where Roy finally accepted Hayley and declared his love.

We had a lovely couple of days, and David Neilson and Julie Hesmondhalgh are always delightful company. The best part for me was while they were filming at the airport. Julie had a big break between scenes and we got a bit bored, so I managed to persuade her to let me try on Hayley's iconic red anorak. My only regret was that because she was still filming, the Hayley wig had to stay on her head, and couldn't go on to mine to complete the look!

HOME SWEET HOME?

MYANNA BURING PLAYS A DETECTIVE GRAPPLING WITH BOTH HER PAST AND FUTURE IN A NEW DRAMA...

Starting a crime drama with a police officer chasing a suspect isn't unusual, but we can't think of many where the chase ends with the suspect punching a detective in the gut, and the cop being rushed to hospital because she's pregnant.

But then there's a lot that's quite different about four-part drama In The Dark, particularly the way we get drawn into the case. While she's preoccupied trying to make sense of her own (mixed) feelings about her impending motherhood, detective Helen Weeks catches sight of her former best friend Linda on the news. It turns out Linda's husband has been arrested for the abduction of two young girls, so Helen returns to her home town in Derbyshire to see if her personal connections can help on the case – but there's something there that Helen's been avoiding for a long time...

"Helen is dedicated to unearthing the truth, yet like all good heroines she has her own dark secret buried in her past," teases MyAnna Buring, who plays her. "The series is very much a tale in two parts: in the first two episodes, Helen's secret resurfaces to haunt her. Then, in the last two episodes, she wrangles with her present and her future."

Returning to her home town puts Helen in an unusual position – she's still familiar to many people, but the time she's since spent working in Manchester makes her an outsider as well. And while Linda is happy to see her, it's clear that they can't just pick up where they left off...

"What I hope we have been able to achieve is characters that audiences can really invest in," shares MyAnna. "In this series we are dealing with so many different issues and crises – it's a roller-coaster ride of a thriller. I feel that all the characters are real human beings. They are flawed, not perfect, and that's what makes them interesting – not only to play but also to watch."

The drama is adapted from a series of novels by author Mark Billingham, and having all that additional material was useful to MyAnna when she was preparing for the role.

"As always, I get most of my information from the script – it was Danny's [Brocklehurst, the screenwriter] script that I hung Helen's coat on, so to speak," she explains. "Then I went to Mark's books to add in more layers. There were certain elements that had changed in Danny's interpretation, and it felt good for me to know that difference."

"I also found an interesting gallows humour within the police force," continues MyAnna. "It seems characteristic of a job that isn't always pleasant or easy. In order to deal with it, humour and sarcasm can be useful. I think it comes through in the script – Helen has a wry sense of humour..."

Reported Missing

I've been watching Reported Missing, but I can't watch any more – it's so sad, it made me cry.

It's all these cases of people who go missing and you don't really hear about. The police are just brilliant – sometimes they find the people, sometimes they don't, but the police work is incredible. It's really interesting.

I love anything where you have to guess what's going to happen – Line Of Duty absolutely floored me, although I don't know if I agree with the ending! I love things like The Jinx and Making A Murderer as well.

When I was a kid, I was obsessed with Surprise Surprise.

I somehow thought that one day I would find a long-lost sister or something and she would live in Tahiti and we would be reunited, sobbing, on Surprise Surprise.

I like a lot of comedy. I've just gone back and started watching The Mighty Boosh again. I was a big Blackadder fan, and I love timeless comedies like that. I've also gone back to I'm Alan Partridge – it's having Netflix that makes you rewatch things.

If I could be on any other show, I'd love to do Who Do You Think You Are? Oh, and I want to bring back This Is Your Life – I know we've got Piers Morgan's Life Stories, which is very good, but I want the big red book. I like that bit, where they're on stage and then the book comes out!

What do you mean you're NOT watching...

THE CELEBRITY CRYSTAL MAZE | Channel 4 THURSDAY

WE WATCHED THE FIRST EPISODE with a fair amount of apprehension – would the games be too easy? Would the Dome look impressive enough? Would Mumsie make a cameo? – but it's safe to say this revival has hit the ground running, with Richard Ayoade fitting in well as the host and deploying the deadpan humour he excels at. It seems the thrill of watching teams mostly failing at a series of challenges is just as strong in 2017 as it was in the early 90s. The true test will come when we get to see the episodes with regular punters rather than celebs, but the new format is very encouraging.

ROSS KEMP: EXTREME WORLD | Sky1 SUNDAY

STATES OF EMERGENCY

ROSS KEMP TELLS US ALL ABOUT THE THRILLS AND RISKS OF MAKING HIS DOCUMENTARY SERIES...

Ross Kemp prides himself on fronting a programme that gets to parts of the world others cannot reach – and this series includes visits to remote parts of Libya, Madagascar and the Philippines.

The first episode, however, takes place on slightly more familiar territory, but is no more reassuring for that fact: Ross heads to Texas to investigate racial tensions that have been amplified since the election of President Trump. We caught up with Ross to find out more...

What made you decide to go to Texas?

You may say that the United States of America is a divided country in many respects, and a lot of it doesn't get coverage. It's a massive country with a big population, and each city and state has its own police force, so it's difficult to keep track of some of the things that are happening. If you're trying to keep an eye on extremist groups, it's quite hard – and what the film shows is that because of the election of Trump, someone who's quite forthright in terms of his extremist views, it's allowed these groups to sort of legitimise themselves, and I think it's quite frightening in that respect.

You and the crew got caught up in a riot in Austin – what happened there?

Texas hold 'em: Ready for a race war in the US

There's a big riot in Austin at the end of the film, and the demonstrators that we're with are carrying automatic machine guns. There are about 800 state troopers there also with guns, and there are snipers on the roofs. That's quite scary – in a forward-thinking country, that you go to a demonstration armed with a loaded weapon.

You met extremists on both sides who were arming themselves for a 'race war' – how chilling was that?

I'm not sure if there is going to be a race war in terms of white people and black people shooting each other on the street. I hope it never comes to that – but what the film is there to do is point out that there is a possibility of it, and we're closer to it now than we have been for a long time. Particularly when they've got guns and they've all been trained by the military.

You get thrown into a lot of very intense situations with your crew – you must have worked up a real bond by this point?

I think that's definitely the case, and I think they would agree with me on that, and that's why we want to carry on doing what we're doing. Because of the experiences you go through, you become a sort of surrogate family – I've had to place my life in their hands, and vice versa.

Austin powers: There's trouble in Texas

The series has been hugely successful – what response do you get from viewers?

Incredibly positive. I was on the Tube today and at the first stop people look at me, at the second the phone's out, by the third they're standing in a line for selfies! I love Grant Mitchell and EastEnders, but he doesn't get mentioned much these days, it's all about the documentaries – so it's great to have two careers!

THE VOICE KIDS | ITV SAT & SUN

MUSICAL MATCH-UPS

PIXIE LOTT AND DANNY JONES
TELL US WHAT'S IN STORE AS THE BATTLE ROUNDS BEGIN...

With the blind auditions now completed, it's time for Team Pixie, Team Danny and Team Will to undergo the difficult yet necessary process of streamlining their numbers – but the battle rounds in The Voice Kids will be taking a slightly different form to how they work in the grown-up version. We're used to seeing a head-to-head contest between two people, though on The Voice Kids, it'll be three kids battling it out for each spot in the semi-final.

"You want to work with all of them, but obviously you can't because it's the rules of the show!" Pixie tells Inside TV. "They know that, and they have to have that experience and that lesson. It's not a race, so if it's not their time now, it will be their time whenever."

"It's slightly easier to split them because they're in threes," reveals Danny. "So at least two of them go away, and it's not like one person has to leave on their own."

"Some of them amazed me with how graceful they were when they didn't get through," adds Pixie. "They were saying, 'Well, I've loved this experience'. If I was their mum or dad, I would be like, 'Wow!'."

The coaches have picked songs for the battle rounds that they think will show off their contestants in the best way.

"It was difficult to pick battle songs because you don't want to favour any one kid," admits Danny. "You want to take each one of those kids out of their comfort zone, but you want it to be even for everyone."

Perfect match

BLIND DATE | Channel 5 8PM

It has thoroughly warmed our cockles that even in the age of Tinder and Love Island, the old-fashioned charm of Blind Date has still managed to win over the viewing public and find itself an audience.

And we have to tip our hats to Channel 5 for making the wise decision not to mess too much with the original format, as they could easily have done in an attempt to make it 'relevant'. They've just trusted Paul O'Grady to pick the right tone for the show, and he clearly has. (Okay, so that new version of the theme tune does sound a bit ropey, but no one ever gets everything 100 per cent correct, do they?)

Tonight, recruitment consultant Antoni from Manchester is hoping to find the woman of his dreams, and so is a Celine Dion super-fan called Alice...

DEATH IN PARADISE | Alibi 8PM

Tonight's episode is about a horror movie filming in Saint Marie. You can imagine how that actor-agent conversation went, can't you? "Yes, that island does have an unusually high murder rate – look, do you want the job or not?" Anyway, star Lexi Cunningham cheats death when her double eats poisoned chocolate that was intended for her, so Humphrey and Camille must question the cast and crew...

ROYAL PAINS | Universal 5PM

Ken Keller may have to rethink his lifestyle as Hank diagnoses a possible heart condition – but is the superstar agent ready to slow down? Meanwhile, Divya meets Hank’s mentor, and a broken-down car gives Hank the germ of an idea.

VERA | ITV Encore 8PM

The shooting of a young woman staying in a holiday chalet throws up difficult questions for Vera and Joe. Was it the work of poachers? Or was the intended victim someone else who was meant to be staying there?

EPIDEMIC: WHEN BRITAIN FOUGHT AIDS | Channel 4 10PM

The arrival of Aids in Britain in the 1980s sent us into a widespread panic – that much is already well-known, but this thoughtful documentary tells the story of Aids in Britain through the eyes of those who lived through it.

Featuring testimonials from well-known faces like Paul O'Grady, Jean Paul Gaultier and Erasure's Andy Bell, it also includes doctors discussing the challenges of treating patients when they knew so little; health campaigners revealing the difficulties of keeping the public informed when Britain as a society didn't like talking about sex (let alone gay sex); and a truly moving account from Rupert Whitaker, the boyfriend of Terrence Higgins, who was one of the first people in Britain to die from an Aids-related illness.

Monster mash

THE LOCH | ITV 9PM

There's a shocking revelation in tonight's episode that will send you reeling: Alan admits to Annie that he never saw the Loch Ness monster, and he just made the whole thing up for attention. That bit of levity is much needed, because elsewhere in Lochnefoy, things are pretty tense: the police continue to investigate Dr Marr, who plans retaliation against Evie for what he's convinced is a vendetta, and Quigley and Annie learn of an alarming incident at the hydroelectric dam.

RED BULL SOAPBOX RACE | Dave 5PM

We have no idea why soapbox racing is so watchable, but there's something about the simplicity of it all: people hop into a self-made vehicle at the top of a hill, and leave gravity to do the rest. The competition returns to London's Alexandra Palace this year, and we can expect some extremely creative designs for the vehicles – but how many of them will make it through the entire course?

THE FORCE: NORTH EAST | Sky1 10PM

The series following real police and the challenges they face moves to Northumbria for its latest series. Tonight, a brawl outside a Newcastle pub ends in a stabbing, and a plumber's call-out unexpectedly leads to the busting of a cannabis farm.

YOU'RE THE WORST | 5STAR 1.30AM

Jimmy and Gretchen are drifting apart as she slips into depression. He wants to help, but has no idea how. Things aren't much better for Edgar, either, as he tries to impress Dorothy's comedian pals – but just ends up irritating her.

HOW TO RETIRE AT 40 | Channel 4 8.30PM

At a time where the prospective retirement age for most of us keeps getting pushed further away, there are a few people who are managing to buck the trend. Apparently it's all part of a movement called "financial independence", which sounds like a fairly alien concept to us – but in this one-off special, Anna Richardson, Sophie Morgan and Rhik Samadder will be meeting some of these pioneers to discover what their secrets are.

Disappointingly, there's no quick-fix. For some people, it was having a brilliant idea and making it a reality – while for others, it's simply scrimping and saving now in the hope of a more prosperous future. Don't assume you'll be able to hand your notice in tomorrow, but you might be left feeling inspired...

CATCHING A KILLER | Channel 4 9PM

The true-crime series that follows the work of the Thames Valley Police Major Crime Unit returns tonight with an account of the headline-grabbing murder of an antiquarian book dealer in Oxford last year. There were no witnesses to the death of Adrian Greenwood, but one curious detail was the disappearance of his early edition of The Wind In The Willows, which was worth around £50,000. The story unfolds as the team search for Mr Greenwood's killer.

FAWLTY TOWERS | Gold 8.20PM

Over the next couple of months, Gold will be polling viewers on their favourite comedy episodes, with each week's programmes having a certain theme. This week's theme is work, so we start with a trip to Torquay's finest (it says here) hotel, before heading to Slough and The Office. Other workplaces lined up during the week will be the mining ship Red Dwarf, and the canteen from Dinnerladies.

CONVICTED FOR LOVE | More4 10PM

The Sexual Offences Act 1967 began the decriminalisation of homosexuality in Britain. But this documentary examines how the act sparked new waves of homophobia, and how gay men continued to be victimised by the law.

DARA O BRIAIN'S GO 8 BIT | Dave 10PM

Liza Tarbuck and comedian Jamali Maddix grab their gamepads this week for Dara's video game challenge. With help from Sam and Steve, they'll be going head-to-head on titles like Bomb Jack, Far Cry 3 and Crash Bandicoot.

The home front

PHIL SPENCER: FIND ME A HOME | Channel 4 9PM

Phil Spencer house-hunting on someone else's behalf is a familiar sight on Channel 4, but there's one big difference here: both families featured in the programme are homeless.

In Kent, single mum Bibi and her son Oscar have just been evicted, while in central London, Corvel, Meyrem and their young son are temporarily living in a home that's vermin-infested and due for demolition. Phil quickly discovers the nightmarish hurdles facing these families in the private rental market, where properties within their budget are virtually non-existent, and many private landlords refuse to let to tenants on housing benefit. With a seasoned property-hunter like Phil struggling, this shows just how hard it's become for many people to find a suitable home.

Family portrait

GRANDAD, DEMENTIA & ME | BBC1 10.45PM

When his grandfather Tom was diagnosed with dementia, Dominic Sivyer decided to film him – partly to capture the way Tom's illness affected him and his family, and also as a way of preserving the person that Tom had been. It all led to this documentary, which explores how dementia has changed the relationship between Dominic's grandparents, and how Dominic copes trying to look after his grandfather as Tom's behaviour becomes increasingly erratic.

THE BRITISH GARDEN... | BBC4 9PM

Nature programmes are all well and good, but what's the chance of finding anything interesting in our own back yard, so to speak? Well, in this one-off documentary, Chris Packham and a team of experts spend a year combing eight gardens in a suburban British street to discover what kind of wildlife might be lurking there that we're unaware of – and we're promised some big surprises.

CHICAGO FIRE | Sky Living 9PM

The team at Firehouse 51 return to duty for a new series of flame-battling action. Stella and Severide find themselves in danger when her unstable ex comes after them, while Chief Boden finds that his leadership is being questioned.

WOULD YOU TAKE IN A STRANGER? | More4 10PM

As part of a season exploring housing and homelessness, this documentary looks at the work of NightStop, which matches families who have spare beds with young people who need a place to sleep until a solution can be found.

School's out

ACKLEY BRIDGE | Channel 4 8PM

The bell rings for the school drama in tonight's final episode – and considering its performance over the last six weeks, we'd give it a solid B+ that recognises its hard work tackling a difficult subject, while recognising that there's still room for improvement if it really applies itself next term. (Assuming we get one, that is: there's no word from Channel 4 as yet on a recommission.)

Anyway, tonight Mandy is hopeful that the school's first open day will provide an opportunity to show how they've succeeded where many thought they would fail. It's a lovely thought, but she hasn't factored in Alya exposing Mandy's affair with Sadiq during her speech, or Jordan lashing out after he learns who the real father of baby Jamie is.

THE WEEK THE LANDLORDS MOVED IN | BBC1 9PM

A quick note for anyone who, like us, is finding this series to be must-see viewing: it's due to take a break after this week, but there are still two episodes left in the series, so watch this space for news of its return. Tonight, Birmingham-based landlord Samuel – who says he spends less than five minutes a month managing his portfolio and lives on a "passive income" – swaps with tenant Marie, whose home has damp problems, a leaky roof and very few doorhandles...

THRONECAST: WAR ROOM | Sky Atlantic 9PM

It's just a matter of days until Game Of Thrones returns, and fan speculation about what we can expect from season seven is feverish. With that in mind, Sue Perkins returns with the companion series, accompanied by Thrones superfans Al Murray, Lauren Laverne and Jonathan Ross to talk about their predictions for the upcoming series while sitting around a Westeros-shaped table.

SPA WARS | ITVBe 8PM

The beauty parlour contest is in Kent and Surrey, where beauticians Melissa, Michelle and Rose do their best to impress each other. Things go poorly for one host when a non-surgical facelift literally leaves her guest speechless.

PHARMACY ROAD | Sky Atlantic 10PM

Brooklyn Nine-Nine's Andy Samberg stars in this spoof documentary following the Tour de France during a fictional period in the history of cycling, when nearly every contestant was associated with a doping scandal.

WHO DO YOU THINK YOU ARE? | BBC1 9PM

He may be famous for his frown on Strictly Come Dancing, but you can expect to see Craig Revel Horwood looking rather excited as he goes in search of his family history tonight.

Craig has a lot of unanswered questions about his family tree, some of which are cleared up quickly by his mum and sister in Ballarat, Australia: like how his great great grandfather Moses Horwood was a convict who was shipped over from England.

After seeing a photo of his great grandfather Charles, Craig is intrigued by his great grandmother – a member of the Tinwood family. One research trip later and Craig discovers that the Tinwoods originally hailed from Essex, and came to Australia for very different reasons than Moses...

EAT, SHOP, SAVE | ITV 7.30PM

Good Morning Britain's Ranvir Singh hosts this new four-part series where families undertake an eight-week challenge to improve their lives by eating more healthily, getting fitter and saving money. Is it possible to do all of these things at once? Ranvir's team of experts think so, and they're starting the mission with the Harling family in Manchester. Mum Lorraine has a tough job with a brood of fussy eaters, but does nutritionist Dale Pinnock have the answer?

HOW TO GET AWAY WITH MURDER | Sky Living 9PM

It's been a long wait for the latest season of the legal thriller (including a period in the wilderness where it was left without a UK broadcaster) but finally Annalise Keating (the peerless Viola Davis) and her morally-compromised students are back on our screens. The Keating Five are now in their second year of law school, and Annalise has set up a clinic allowing them to take on their own cases...

DOGS: AN AMAZING ANIMAL FAMILY | Sky1 9PM

How exactly did dogs end up as man's best friend? In this three-part series, Patrick Aryee embarks on a global quest to meet some of the world's fastest, strongest dogs, and revealing how all dogs are still at least 98.8 per cent wolf.

NEW GIRL | E4 9PM

In tonight's double-bill, Reagan gives Nick a boost after a publisher turns down his novel, by arranging for him to give a reading at a bookshop. However, the glue used to bind copies has an unfortunate effect on Nick and Jess...

THE LAST LEG | Channel 4 10PM

The Last Leg has established itself as a comedy series in its own right so successfully that it's easy to forget that it originally started out as a companion show to Channel 4's Paralympic coverage back in 2012.

But the show is going back to its roots tonight, as the World Para Athletics Championships get under way back in London. And while we can still expect the usual satirical swipe at the past seven days, for the next two weeks Adam, Alex and Josh will also be keeping us up to date with all of the big news from the athletics competition.

In tonight's show, they'll be joined by double gold-winning Paralympic sprinter Liam Malone – who won our hearts with his hilarious trackside interviews at Brazil 2016, so it'll be great to see him again.

Out with the count

COUNT ARTHUR STRONG | BBC1 8.30PM

It's Michael's birthday, and Arthur seems to have forgotten it for the second year in a row. Considering he organised big celebrations for Eggy's and John's (even if both of those occasions did end in near-drowning incidents), Michael is pretty disappointed. But for once, Arthur hasn't been a terrible friend – in fact, the regulars at the café have been working hard to put together a birthday surprise for Michael. And what could possibly go wrong when Arthur plans a magical mystery tour?

NASHVILLE | Sky Living 9PM

It might just be us, but is there something a little bit... off about Nashville this season? It's like watching a good friend being impersonated by someone who never met them: they've got the general idea down, but it still feels inauthentic somehow. Anyway: Juliette's gospel album gets savaged by the critics this week, which we all saw coming a mile off (didn't we?) and Deacon gets a call telling him that Daphne is falling behind at school.

BBC PROMS 2017 | BBC4 8PM

It's that time of year again, so let's join Katie Derham and the team over at the Royal Albert Hall for the First Night Of The Proms. Kicking things off this year will be the world premiere of St John's Dance, by British composer Tom Coult.

DICTE: CRIME REPORTER | More4 9PM

Following the death of a local 'wellness expert', Dicte and Wagner are on the tail of her secret lover. The evidence seems to point very clearly in one direction – but that just leaves the pair convinced that something isn't right...

BOOK

HERE AND GONE

by Haylen Beck

Attempting to flee her abusive husband, Audra finds herself being followed by a police car. As she pulls over, she's unaware that her escape is about to turn into a nightmare beyond her imagining.

STAR CHOICE

Neighbours' Matt Wilson (Aaron)

"I saw Logan recently, and I wasn't expecting it to be as good as it was. The girl [Dafne Keen] who plays the little Wolverine is a star. She's got so much attitude – she almost outperforms Hugh Jackman. I never thought I would enjoy it that much, but it is really good!"

TUESDAY
11 JULY

Eva is most definitely a woman scorned, but she's also not the sharpest tool in the box! So it's just as well that she isn't the only person on the cobbles who wants to see Aidan suffer... Next week, Eva realises that Adam knows about Aidan and Maria's affair – so could he prove useful in making her revenge plot a success? Or is the sly solicitor not to be trusted?

EMMERDALE

Wedding bells?

It seems as if running a bridal business is giving Leyla ideas next week – but will she seriously consider proposing to Pete? If only she knew what he was getting up to with her best mate, Priya...

EASTENDERS

Business or pleasure?

Max is up to his old tricks again next week, as he cosies up to unsuspecting Carmel. But is it lust that's drawing him to the council planning officer – or greed?

HITS & MISSES!

WHAT'S HIT THE BULLSEYE RECENTLY – AND WHAT'S FALLEN WIDE OF THE MARK?

Clearly, there's something not right about Pierce's stalker apologist mum, Martha. But which of them is to blame for the other's madness?

It was never revealed where Phelan really got that black eye of his. We bet there's a story to it...

Oh! The drama of Carmel balancing her roles with the council planning department and the market enforcement office. Tell us more, EastEnders!

Priya has the biggest wine glasses we've ever seen. Like, half-a-gallon each. We wholeheartedly approve.

You have to admire the cold-hearted opportunism of Dave the Cat, who, after Dot's fall, got straight in there and scoffed Patrick's cake, with not a thought for the woman who took him in off the street.

BULLSEYE!

We've taken an immediate shine to Corrie newcomer Nicola Rubenstein, who wicked Phelan thinks might be his daughter. Thanks to a wonderfully cool performance from actress Nicola Thorp, we totally believe in her character's horror at having her life turned upside down. And it's already clear that she can be just as bloodlessly cunning as her (possible) father Pat!

With cheesy texts like this, Maria and Aidan deserved to get caught. Blurk.

In hospital, Dot enjoyed a morphine-fuelled vision of two angelic brides. Poor EastEnders producer Sean O'Connor... He's barely cold, and Ronnie and Roxy are already back from the dead.

The Murrays are floating through the Square without interacting with anyone. Can they even be seen? Will we discover that they actually died 40 years ago?

The winner of Inscere Smile of the Week is Corrie's Will. So very, very pleased for Michelle's new happiness.

We like the two ducks who've moved into the Emmerdale shop and fallen in love with David.

How exactly is Mick able to buy a 10-night holiday in the megabucks ski resort of Klosters? Is he just throwing away that Vic freehold money? Wasn't it used to settle all his debts? We're confused.
